Village to pay off diverted funds ahead of schedule

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Mayor Taso Maravelas announced funds diverted from the Dolly Spiering fund by former village administrator Tim Wells would be paid off ahead of schedule.

The announcement came as board members discussed raising the pay of various elected and appointed board members in the future. Trustee Barbara Porch had asked if these funds would be completely repaid before the board's pay increases scheduled for 2005.

"We are looking to have that paid one year ahead of time," he said.

Current village administrator Mike Haley said the amount paid to date is about $625,000.

A five-percent utility tax increase has been levied on natural gas, electricity and phone service in Antioch to cover the costs of repaying a bank loan to repay the Spiering fund for seniors. Though the tax will only be in place for about three years, and will be immediately repealed when the loan is repaid, many residents are unhappy about the increase.

Wells initially pleaded not guilty on March 6 to charges that he illegally diverted about $1.5 million from a fund established for Antioch seniors. Later, he entered a negotiated guilty plea in Lake County Circuit Court on Aug. 6, 2002 before Judge Ray McKosky on charges of forgery and perjury. The charges came after months of investigation following a routine audit, requested Maravelas, revealed that the money bequeathed to Antioch seniors by Spiering had been diverted and spent.

Wells

The money had been deposited into the general and enterprise funds. Though an ordinance was approved on June 13, 2000 to establish a special fund for the seniors, this was never done.

Trustees and the mayor elected in 2005 will see pay increases from $2,500 to $6,000 and from $6,000 to $12,000 respectively in 2005. Newly elected trustees will see no pay increases during their terms that run until 2007.

Fire truck loan program gets unanimous approval

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Though the measure is subject to appropriation, legislation co-sponsored by Rep. JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch) was unanimously approved by the Illinois House of Representatives to allow zero-interest loans to fire departments and districts to purchase trucks.

"This will really help the small departments that wouldn't be able to handle short-term loans with interest," said Osmond.

Loans would not be able to exceed $250,000 for any department or district and could be carried out for a maximum of 20 years.

Osmond, who serves on the committee of appropriations for public safety, said that the issuing of mandates combined with a "listless economy" have led fire departments and fire protection districts to cut already-slim budgets.

"In order for our firefighters to perform their jobs adequately and effectively, it is important for them to have the necessary and up-to-date equipment available," she said. "This measure serves as a shining testament to the important roles these individuals play in our everyday lives."

The loan funds offered would be paid out of a newly created Fire Truck Revolving Loan Fund, a special fund in the Illinois Rural Bond Bank.

Osmond said she and her task force colleagues observed that departments and districts that have better equipment and superior training, also have lower insurance ratings. "This also saves a significant amount of money," she said.

For the troops

Members of SMAD make a difference in the lives of military personnel overseas

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

During times of war, young adolescents experience a range of feelings. The spectrum may run from anger and fear at the disturbance in the order of their lives to frustration at being unable to help the situation.

Regardless of how one interprets "help"—either as making war or as stopping it—most people, young and old, agree that the burden of the effort falls blamelessly on the troops who are in the field.

At Palombi Middle School, a group of young teens, operating under the name SMAD ("Students Making a Difference") has stepped forward in an effort to ease the lives of our troops overseas.

Within four days, the group, with the assistance of social studies teacher Will Hibler, collected 1,500 personal items to send overseas. The donations included toiletries, books, sewing kits, phone cards, disposable cameras and other things that become luxuries in a war zone.

The quid-pro-quo, if one is needed, is that the students feel less helpless in the face of events out of their control.

"This makes me feel that I'm doing what I can to help," said SMAD member Brandon Wold, a 14-year-old in the eighth grade.

Nick Kirkpatrick, a 13-year-old eighth-grader who is president of SMAD, summed up the sense of purpose embodied in the group's efforts.

"War is sad," he said. "We're helping our soldiers who are trying to help America."

A seventh-grader, Daniel Traska, 13, offered a catch phrase that embodied his philosophy: "Pay it forward, instead of paying it back."

SMAD works all year to "pay it forward" in various ways. Nat Steinsultz, 13, in the eighth grade, pointed out that some of the group's regular efforts can "pay it forward" twice.

"We pay it forward with candygrams," he said. "People want to say something nice to someone, but don't know how, but they can send nice messages to someone."

The "candygrams" are messages attached to candy, delivered by SMAD members. This year, SMAD sold 500 messages, at 50 cents apiece. The $250 was added to

Business owner creates banners to support troops

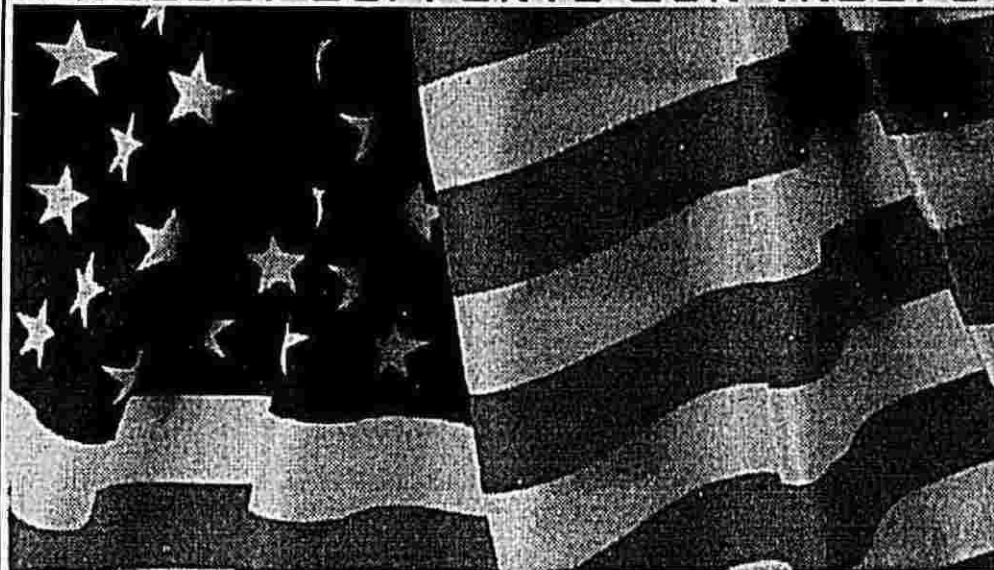

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

Mike Greco makes signs for a living. So through his profession, he decided to help support the troops who are fighting in the war with Iraq.

Greco, who lives in Antioch and owns Sign A Rama in Gurnee, took notice of an article in the Antioch News explaining State Rep. JoAnn Osmond's (R-Antioch) 'Operation Support Our Troops' program.

"I saw that JoAnn was collecting

SIGN-A-RAMA GURNEE
PROUDLY SUPPORTS OUR TROOPS

things for the troops and obviously at this time you want to do things that are patriotic," Greco said. "I was trying to think of a way to tie in what I do for a living to help out JoAnn."

Greco decided to make patriotic banners and donate part of the proceeds to Osmond's program. From each banner sold at Sign A Rama, Greco will donate $3 toward the cost of mailing the supplies Osmond has collected.

"People come in and drop off all sorts of goods, but they needed to be able to come up with some cash to mail everything," Greco explained.

Several styles of banners are available, including one that has the famed shot of Uncle Sam, only on Greco's banner he's saying "Saddam, We'll Get YOU!" There is also a simple banner of an American flag that reads 'Stars and Stripes Forever.' Another of Greco's banners reads 'America: Land of the free, thanks to our brave soldiers.' The banners may also be customized for businesses to say, for example, 'Sign A Rama proudly supports our troops.'

"It's a way for people to show their patriotic pride," Greco said.

So far, Greco has sold about 75 banners to businesses and individuals, which brought in $225 for Osmond's program.

Greco said he hopes to sell at least 100 banners. He said he will continue to sell banners as long as troops are at war.

The banners sell for $38 each and are ready within 48 hours of ordering.

To order a banner, interested persons can stop by Sign A Rama at 3701-C Grand Ave., where order forms are available. The store is located one and a half blocks east of Route 41. Those interested may also call Sign A Rama at 847-336-4002 to request an order form.

Osmond's collection of items is ongoing. Donations may be sent to Operation Support Our Troops Fund, C/C State Rep. JoAnn Osmond, 976 Hillside Ave., Antioch, IL 60002. Donations may be dropped off at the same address. Checks may be made out to Operation Support Our Troops Fund. Any monetary donations received will be used to pay for postage or to purchase items to go in care packages.

Agreement for Main St. townhomes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Cedar Development will be allowed to move forward with plans for a quasi-PUD of townhomes on Main Street.

While a PUD (planned unit development) allows for one large parcel of land to be split into smaller parcels for a planned development, developer Dennis Biedron is taking seven smaller parcels and combining them into one larger unified development.

When completed the development will utilize about four acres of land, currently in the mid-600s on Main Street running all the way back to the railroad tracks, for its seven buildings.

Biedron said he and his architect, William Reese, had worked on several different designs to come up with something suitable in the eyes of Bob Silhan, director of planning, zoning and building, and George Sakas, senior planner for the village.

"I've already been thrown out the building office," Biedron said jokingly. "Bob threw me out the first time, and George the second. We've worked on 10 different scenarios, and think we got something nice."

Biedron said he plans to berm the back of the lot as a buffer to the railroad tracks. When built, the closest unit will have one corner that is 40 feet from the tracks.

The detention area has been moved from the front of the total lot to the back. Between the planning and zoning public hearing and the village board meeting, Biedron reports that Wisconsin Central will assist in ensuring that drainage goes to the railroad property and not to lots south of the development.

The board of directors of the village of Antioch approved the request under the condition that drainage will not run to the south.

Both the planning and zoning board and the village board denied Biedron's request for a variation waiving village ordinance requiring brick on all four sides of the buildings.

Additionally, both boards expressed concern that potential buyers understand the development's close proximity to the railroad tracks and the noise factor.

Biedron said those already living in the development have found it an advantage to live close to the train. "The sales contracts point out that the train tracks are there," he said. "I've found they like living where they can walk to the train station."

Route 173 corridor study work begins in Antioch

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

For the second time, Valerie Kretchmer and Associates along with Smith Engineering have been accepted by the board of directors to consult with the Village of Antioch about its Route 173 corridor plan.

The project went out to bid after the aforementioned had initially been accepted, but the two firms will remain as village consultants as the bid came in $13-20,000 below other bids.

Trustee Barbara Porch questioned the bid and said different firms were given different instructions before making their bids. "Kretchmer was directed to team up with Smith Engineering, and the others were not," she said. I'm concerned because we did not give other bidders the direction to work with Smith."

Trustee Bob Caulfield said he thought Porch had a valid concern, but others did not.

Trustee Dorothy Larson said as Kretchmer's bid had already been delivered to the village, others could have chosen to work with Smith. "They knew who Kretchmer had chosen for engineering and they knew what the price was," said Larson. "They made their own choices."

Trustee Larry Hanson said he thought it rang as a slap in the face to village staff and added, "Every firm is qualified to do the proposal."

Trustee Scott Pierce said he felt it was important to get on with the work of the corridor study as the process began in December and now into April nothing had been done.

Later Porch, casting the only dissenting vote, said she hadn't intended to sound critical of village staff and just wanted to ensure apples and apples were being compared.

After the vote, Pierce, chair of the planning and zoning committee, called for a special meeting of his committee to begin actual work on April 9.

Town meeting short, sweet

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Much like showing up to school on the last day to take attendance, the annual town meeting for Antioch Township lasted all of 7 minutes.

Prior to the meeting, Kathleen Smith, township clerk, said, "As far as we know, there are no issues coming up. The longest part of the meeting is usually me reading the reports."

The meeting probably wouldn't have gone longer than last year's 6-minute meeting except that Heather Kufalk-Marotta, township assessor, needed to have an old laser printer classified as "surplus" so it could be donated to the Antioch Community High School tech center. The motion was approved so high-schoolers now have a printer from which to take parts.

Supervisor Steve Smouse said the township hasn't asked for more than a 4.99 percent increase in the four years he's been supervisor, or the two years prior when he was a trustee. "We're in budget," he said. "We have been for years."

Don't miss registration for summertime events

Now that spring is here (evidence by the heavy snowfall), it's time to get things in line for the summer. The Antioch parks and recreation department has scheduled registration dates for both summer camp and swim lessons.

"We want to let people know that these registration dates are upcoming," said Laurie Stahl, director. "These are always in high demand."

Summer Day Camp registration will take place on Saturday, April 19 from 9-11 a.m. for village residents and on Monday, April 21 at 9 a.m. for township residents if space permits. Registration will be held in the parks department building, 806 Holbek Drive.

The camp runs weekdays from 7 a.m.-6 p.m. from June 9 to August 15. The cost per child is $23 per day, or $105 per week.

Swim lesson registration will be held in the Camp Crayon room of the parks department building on Saturday, May 17 from 9-11 a.m.

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

Stahl said, "Because of the great demand for swimming lessons, and to expedite the wait in line this year, each family will be allowed to sign up for only one session on May 17. There will be a separate line for each session."

Open registration, including non-residents, will begin on Tuesday, May 27 at 9 a.m. in the parks department office. Registration for additional sessions will be held at this time if there are openings still available.

"It's helpful to fill out the registration form ahead of time," said Stahl. "Forms can be found in the program guide, or they can be picked up from the parks office."

DUI

Andre R. Camus, 58, of 323 Sydenham, Spring Grove, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on April 6 at 3:18 a.m. on Deep Lake Road, south of Route 173.

Police saw him cross the centerline as he made a turn and weave within his lane of traffic. When stopped, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath. Camus failed all field sobriety testing.

He was arrested and refused chemical testing. He was issued citations for DUI, improper lane usage and improper turn.

Camus was released on cash bond pending court.

Nadine E. Bolstad, 41, of 208 Dannel Place, Spring Grove, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on April 4 at 11:27 p.m. on Route 173 at Tiffany Road.

An officer saw her tailgate a car and then cross the centerline. The strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on Bolstad's breath when she was stopped.

She failed all field sobriety testing and a portable breath test gave a result of .24 blood alcohol concentration. Bolstad was arrested for DUI.

At the station, she submitted to chemical testing resulting in a blood alcohol concentration of .253. Bolstad was issued citations for DUI, DUI over .08, following too closely and improper lane usage.

She posted $100 and her driver's license and was released pending her May 6 court date.

Sean P. Brosnan, 44, of 210 Dittmer Lane, Lindenhurst, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on April 4 at 4:34 p.m. at 1022 Victoria St.

An officer was reportedly checking the general area for Brosnan for a domestic related issue and saw a vehicle wanted in connection to Brosnan. Brosnan turned into a driveway without using a signal.

Police detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Brosnan. He failed all field sobriety testing.

A check through LEADS/SOS returned information that the vehicle's registration had been suspended for insurance violations and that Brosnan had no valid driver's license.

He agreed to chemical testing with results of .21 blood alcohol concentration. He was issued citations for DUI, DUI over .08, failure to signal, suspended registration, operating an uninsured vehicle and driving without a valid driver's license.

Brosnan was released on cash bond pending his May 20 court date.

Jeremy L. Kaup, 25, of 3111 91st Street, Sturtevant, Wis., was arrested for driving under the influence on April 1 at 1:57 a.m. on Route 83 at Kairy Street.

He was reportedly "weaving severely from curb to centerline" and then went straight from the left-hand turn lane at the stoplight. When stopped, Kaup put the car in reverse instead of into park.

A check through LEADS came back that his Wisconsin driver's license was suspended.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath. Kaup failed all field sobriety tests and a portable breath test showed his blood alcohol concentration at .183.

He was arrested and issued citations for DUI, improper lane usage, suspended registration, and driving without a valid driver's license. Kaup could not make bond and was held.

Pay increases given to elected, appointed board members

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Those either elected or appointed to various boards within the Village of Antioch won't be quite so underpaid in the future. The board of directors unanimously approved two motions to bring the village's pay structure in line with other Lake County municipalities.

The first of these motions increases the salaries of village board members and the mayor in 2005 while the second increases the per diem paid to those who sit on the combined planning and zoning board, the parks board and the fire and safety board. Additionally the per diem paid to the recording secretaries of all boards will double.

Village attorney Bob Long explained that policy does not permit trustees to raise their own salaries mid-term.

Trustees and the mayor elected in 2005 will see pay increases from $2,500 to $6,000 and from $6,000 to $12,000 respectively in 2005. Newly elected trustees will see no pay increases during their terms that run until 2007.

Recording secretaries will be paid $80 per meeting, effective May 1. Other board members, whose pay ranges from $15-40 per meeting, will also see an increase to $80 effective May 1.

Festival Arts cancels 'Crucifixion'

Though the performance of Stainer's "Crucifixion" has been an Antioch tradition for at least ten years, Festival Arts regrets that this year's presentation has been cancelled.

The concert was to have been performed at the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church on April 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Village loses 2 long-time commission members, gains secretary

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Neither Mable Lou Weber, a long-standing member of the redevelopment commission, nor Barbara Johnson, first chair of the combined planning commission and zoning board as of 1993, will continue. Their resignations were accepted with regrets by the board of directors of the village of Antioch.

In her letter, Weber said she felt someone else would do a better job and would be able to be more active than she was in the past year.

"It has been a most rewarding experience being a part of the TIF District since its inception and I really wanted to be a part of it for the full 21 years, but I feel it's time to get another person," she said.

Mayor Taso Maravelas said of Johnson's resignation, "You helped guide the decisions of this village through several difficult and extensive public hearings. Your courtesy in allowing ample time for meaningful public input and board deliberation during these hearings is truly exemplary."

Kim Olsen was appointed to the position of recording secretary for the combined planning commission and zoning board.

Bank hosts driver safety program

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

To help keep the roads around Antioch safe, the First National Bank-Employee Owned is hosting AARP-sponsored drivers' safety course on May 1-2 from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. each day. Formerly known as 55 Alive, the class is now called the AARP Driver Safety Program.

"The course is designed for those who are over the age of 50 years old, or who have had traffic violations and are required to take the class," said Kathy Nixon, FNBE's activities coordinator. "The name has changed, but the course structure still covers the same material."

Driving skills and safety are stressed with pertinent information for avoiding both traffic crashes and violations. It serves as a refresher course for experienced motorists looking to improve their skills and for those who have been directed by the court system because of violations.

The cost of the course is $10, and registration is required by April 23.

"The class will have a minimum of 15 students and no more than 35," added Nixon. Enrollment is on a first-come-first-served basis.

Registration is handled through FNBE, 847-838-2265. Cash payments are accepted; checks should be made payable to AARP.

their funds, which are divided annually among charities selected by the students in the organization. This year, donations were divided between a breast cancer organization and Hope Worldwide.

Hibler said the teens have elected to help people in many venues. Past contributions benefited children in other countries, cancer associations as well as PADS and other local shelters.

Meanwhile, young Nick Kirkpatrick is looking at the big picture on a personal level.

"When I get out of high school, I want to go into the military," he said. "I'm doing as much as I can to help now. Someday, I'll want as much help."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Rude candidate

This is in response to Ralph Antonelli's April 4 letter to the editor. Mr. Antonelli, I have no firsthand information regarding the subject matter of your letter, as I am new to the politics of the Village of Antioch. However, I find it quite ironic that "King Ralph" would challenge the Mayor in the disrespectful ways that you do.

I was on hand at the candidates' night on Wednesday, March 26 when you blatantly and rudely chose to speak beyond the equal allotted time-frame set aside for each candidate. The citizens attended that meeting to hear the views of "ALL" the candidates present there. I don't think any of the 200 or so people were there to witness the near "filibuster" tactics of Ralph Antonelli, as you rudely "sermonized" above and beyond the fair time limits. If each of the many candidates present that evening chose to be as rude as you were, your majesty, none of us would have made it to the polls to vote on April 1 because we would still be sitting in the Township Hall listening to campaign speeches.

Stop wasting your time and energies by throwing rocks at the Mayor of Antioch. I think it would be more advantageous if you took a self-improvement course on manners and courtesy to others — at the very least manners and courtesy to fellow candidates and the residents present to hear the viewpoints of all. I don't think anyone wanted to be subjected to the "soapbox" campaigning.

I, for one, am glad Antonelli was not elected to the position of village trustee because I think you would cause each and every meeting to run into the wee hours of the morning and any residents present at the meetings would not have a chance to express themselves because you would refuse to give up the floor.

'Creative Kids' present plays

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Cathy's Creative Kids Club, an after-school drama club for children within Antioch Community Consolidated District 34, will be presenting three spring plays.

"We hope that people will want to see a play to liven up their day," said Cathy Leafblad the program's director.

Oakland Elementary has two clubs and will present two different plays.

The third and fourth grade will perform "The Emerald Ring of Oz" at Oakland School on April 24 at 7 p.m.

The play is a spin off of "The Wizard of Oz" in which Dorothy is called back by Glinda, the good witch. Dorothy and company need to get the magical, emerald ring into the right hands before the wicked witch of the South gets it.

Oakland fifth graders will perform "Celebrity Survival of the Game Shows" an original comedy that spoofs some famous Hollywood stars. This performance will be held on April 22 at 7 p.m. in the Oakland gymnasium.

"It's hilarious," said Leafblad. "This group is doing a wonderful job impersonating some of the actors and singers. All of the celebrities are being challenged by various game shows until it comes down to two. It's a funny ending and just a funny show."

The third play will be held at Antioch Elementary on April 23 in the gymnasium at 7 p.m. Leafblad works with third-, fourth- and fifth-grade students in one group at this school.

"Blast from the Past" is a story of an elementary student who doesn't appreciate her history class. While examining some science projects, she pushes the wrong button and is sent back in time where she meets some very interesting characters.

"These are cute, cute plays," said Leafblad. This is the third year of Cathy's Creative Kids Club. Leafblad works with students in sixth, seventh and eighth grade in the fall and third-fifth graders in the spring.

Leafblad wrote and directs all three plays. Performances are open to the general public and are free of charge.

Christian Life offers special services

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Instead of traditional Good Friday and Easter Sunday services, Christian Life Fellowship is offering a musical drama as its service.

Members of the church will perform "The Borrowed Tomb" that tells the story of Christ's death and resurrection from the perspective of two members of the Sanhedrin, Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea.

"We witness their struggle of faith and belief as they interact with each other, Mary Magdalene and Jesus," said Gwen Brussaly, church secretary.

Performances will be held on April 18, Good Friday, at 7 p.m. and on April 20, Easter Sunday, at 10 a.m. These special services will run about one hour.

"The performance is the service and is probably an hour long, but it will take a little time before and after," said Pastor Jeff Brussaly. "This is a family-oriented program."

That having been said, nursery and preschool care will be provided for those requiring it.

Christian Life Fellowship is located a little north of Route 173 on Deep Lake Road.

Fans cheer for their teams during Carmel High School's sixth annual Final Four basketball party. — Photo by J.W. Sternickie

Well oiled machine

Plenty of schools in the area, as well as state, have had to shave extra-curricular and even under-level athletic programs because a referendum didn't pass. Carmel, on the other hand, has circumvented that, with flying colors.

Athletic Director Andy Bitto came up with the plan six years ago, hosting a gala at the school in celebration of college basketball's Final Four. "I saw that Holy Cross High School was doing something for the Super Bowl," said Bitto. "We wanted to host an event similar, but it conflicted with our Street Scenes. I then saw that De La Salle High School was doing something for the Final Four. I talked with (Carmel President) Sister Mary Ann McLaughlin, and she liked the idea and approved it."

What an event it has turned out to be. Several thousand came together for the Sixth Annual Carmel Final Four Party, held last weekend.

Bitto said that the event raised approximately $35,000, with most of the funds going toward the construction of brand new tennis courts. Bitto also said that plenty of funds will also be raised from Carmel's walk-a-thon, which will take place on April 25.

"That (the walk-a-thon) usually raises about $100,000," he said. They'll take that and whatever the difference is and match it up with what we made from the Final Four party."

As for the Final Four Party, this has truly become a spectacle, with thousands of fans converging on the Hesse Center Gymnasium. Four, big-screen televisions, plenty of food and drink, raffles, and even a little craps or blackjack were just a few of the attractions fans had the opportunity of enjoying.

Of course, it wouldn't be possible without the help of volunteers, many of which are not even affiliated with the school directly but spouse or friends working at the school.

Take door keeper and ticket taker Maureen Thul, a Carmel alum who has volunteered for all six Final Four extravaganzas to this point.

"I feel bad that a lot of schools have to cut programs and athletics; this party really helps us," said Thul, who used to drive Bitto to school when they were classmates in their youth. "It's really a lot of fun. It's a nice way to get everyone together and share a few laughs."

Dorothy Calcaterra, wife of Kevin, who is Carmel's special event coordinator for the development office, was happy to help out.

"Kevin asked me to come in and help, and I was glad to—this is my second Final Four Party," said Dorothy, who was in charge of checking meal tickets for a buffet that included Italian beef sandwiches, mostaccioli, various salads, and chicken.

As far as the main man that spearheaded these efforts, Bitto could be found racing back and forth, calling out lucky, winning raffle tickets. One of the big features this year was the raffling of a 2003 Golden Tee video golf game, which carried a value of $7,500. There was also a raffle for $10,000 cash, with the top-10 cashing out as well.

"I don't get a chance to watch the games too much," said Bitto. "My job is to make sure everything is running smoothly, and everyone's having a good time."

You and Carmel have certainly accomplished that!

Plus, in retrospect, you weren't missing much. The first game with area favorite Marquette was a blowout. The second game—Texas and Syracuse—nobody seemed to care.

The six Final Four parties have generated well over $100,000. Monies raised in previous years have helped build up the weight room, construct a new softball field, new stands for the stadium, and a brand new soccer field.

Spikers brace for what could be long season

By JOE PRUSKI
Lakeland Correspondent

A lack of experience and a lack of off-season dedication have become major factors in the Antioch High School's boys volleyball teams slow start to the season.

A loss to Carmel at home this week dropped Antioch's season record to 0-6, including losses to Evanston as well as four losses during the Buffalo Grove tournament at the end of March.

With only one senior, and just three returning varsity starters, a lack of experience has plagued the young Antioch team early in the season.

According to head coach Heather Coleman, a lack of players playing club volleyball in the off-season has also hurt the quality of the team.

"You need to work over the off-season to be successful," said Coleman. "Usually we have one or two guys that play club during the off-season, this year we have one. The good teams in the area all have three, four, and five guys."

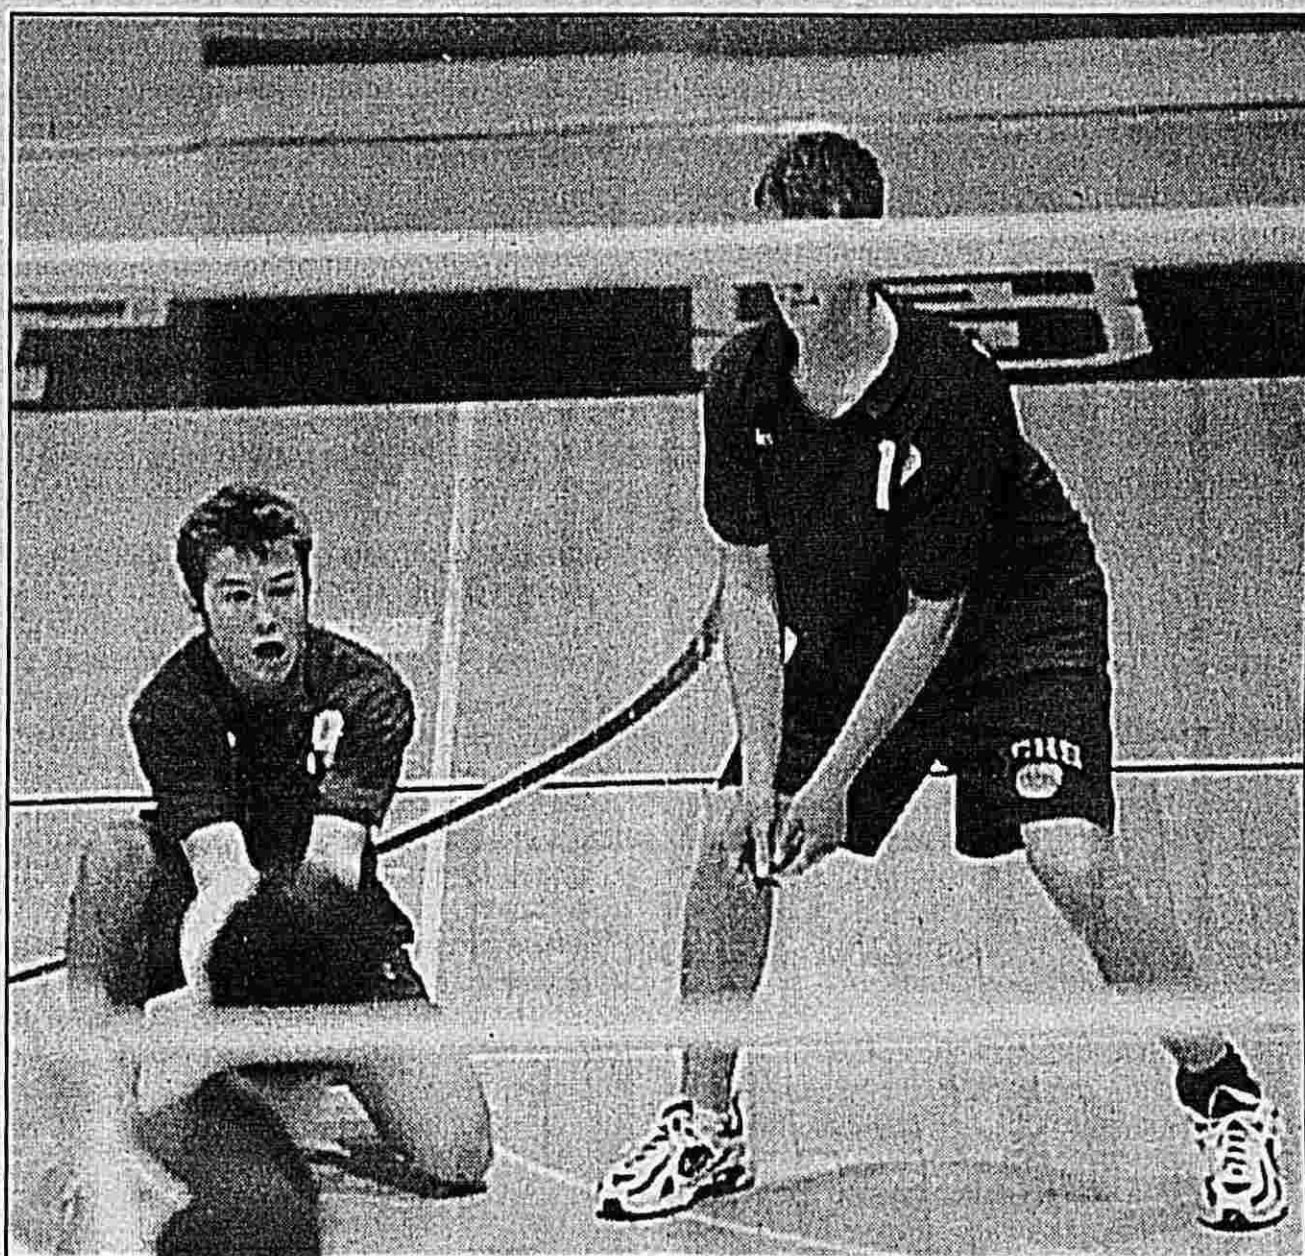

Antioch's lone club player, junior Tom Rompella, figures to be a huge key to Antioch's success this season.

"(Rompella) is one of the fastest players, he has an awesome vertical, he hits hard, he's our only club player and he brings experience," said Coleman. "I'd like to see him put the ball away more. I know he's capable of it, but he thinks too much and he's trying to do to much, once he just plays the game he'll do well."

Brian Ford and Matt Carlson are the only other players on this year's squad with varsity experience, while the only senior is foreign exchange student Rafael Santos.

Last year Antioch finished with a record of 4-26, and finished at the bottom of the North Suburban Conference. This season, Antioch has made a point to improve upon last season's mark.

"Our goals this year are just to be as competitive as possible, and try and win

more games than we did last year," said Coleman.

Although much of the North Suburban Conference looks to be tough this year, Coleman believes that Vernon Hills, who Antioch lost to in the Buffalo Grove conference will be the toughest. Antioch will host Vernon Hills at the end of April.

Antioch visited Stevenson Wednesday, however results were unavailable at press time.

Antioch has away dates at Deerfield April 10 and Zion Benton April 11 in quest of its first victory of the season.

A strong cast of returning players has given the Antioch High School girl's soccer squad reason to set their goals high for the new season as the Sequoits look to improve on a .500 season.

Among the team's goals this year are to play well in conference and win games in the post-season.

"We'd like to challenge for the conference championship this year, as well as win the regional and play in the sectional," said head coach Charles Trout. "Also, we'd just like to improve every game."

Last year's team finished with a record of 10-10-2, including strong performances against both Stevenson and state powerhouse Libertyville.

"We were in every game last year against a good schedule," said Trout. "We played a lot of good teams tough, but this year our schedule is a little more difficult."

With eight varsity starters back this season, Antioch has much of the needed experience to succeed in the North Suburban Conference.

"We don't have a lot of seniors, but we do have a lot of starters back, and that gives us experience," said Trout.

Three seniors who have all started in previous years will lead Antioch this year. Leading scorer Robyn Mortenson figures to have a strong season coming off of a 22-goal campaign from a year ago. Beth Fries and Vickie Garrison will also return to the lineup, adding much needed leadership to an otherwise young team.

"(Mortenson, Fries, and Garrison) are very key for us this year," said Trout. "They are all excellent players, and if they provide leadership we'll have a good season."

Rounding out the returning starters from a year ago are Katie Malcolm, Katie Lincoln, Lori Knupp, Courtney Ksioszk, and Callie Check.

Antioch defeated Cary Grove 3-1 to open the season. Mortenson, Gina Florian, and Kelsie Morway all scored in the winning effort. Mortenson also dished out two assists.

Antioch's home opener against Wauconda was snowed out this week. The girls also have a game scheduled at Vernon Hills April 10 before it heads to compete in the Larkin Invitational. Last year, Antioch finished a strong fifth at Larkin. They are scheduled to play games on April 14 and 16, of course, barring that dreaded 'S' word.

Track team hoping weather cooperates soon

Talk about itching to get the season started. The snow and cold temperatures have wreaked havoc with most sports thus far.

One of them is track. Barring any inclement weather, the Antioch varsity track teams will look to compete this weekend.

The girls, guided by head coach Brent Pitt, will compete in the Grant Invitational April 12 starting at 1 p.m. Returning state qualifiers Lindsay Andrews and Amanda Wagener anchor a solid junior class. Both are standouts in the pole vault. The team is young, with the only senior being Laura Bookwalter in the field events.

For guys team, led by head coach Norm Hahn, will ride the shoulders of the outstanding 3,200-meter relay team that features cross-country standouts Andy Napier, David Dee, Jim Beatty and Tony Amundson, all juniors.

Look for senior Michael Perry to have a solid spring campaign in the hurdles. Niles North High transfer, junior Oleg Sokolov, is a prominent long jumper as well as high jumper.

They've come a long way in a short time! In only its second year of competing, eight young men from Round Lake Beach's American Eagle Gymnastics qualified for the USA Gymnastics-sanctioned Illinois State Meet. Here's a look at how the boys did.

Level 7

Six-year-old Brandon Cacchione of Round Lake Beach placed 4th in the rings with an excellent score of 9.5. He also finished 14th in the parallel bars (8.5) and 25th in the all-around (49.80). Cacchione also scored an 8.3 on the hi-bar, 8.1 on pommel horse, 7.9 on floor and 7.5 on vault.

Seven-year-old Sam Lakoske of Round Lake Park finished third on pommel horse (9.4) and 15th on floor (8.4) en route to a 14th place overall in the all-around (51.20). Lakoske also scored an 8.5 on hi-bar and rings, an 8.4 on parallel bars, and an 8.0 on vault.

Ten-year-old Brett Conway of Lake Villa turned in an outstanding showing, collecting hardware in four events: pommel horse (3rd, 9.4); vault (4th, 8.8); and rings (5th, 9.3). That earned him seventh overall in the all-around (52.90). Conway also scored an 8.8 on hi-bar, 8.6 on parallel bars, and floor (8.0).

Another 10-year-old, Lake Villa's Nick Witke, finished sixth in the all-around with a score of 53.25. Witke's day included fourth-place finishes in both the pommel horse (9.35) and parallel bars (9.0). Witke also scored a 9.0 on rings, an 8.9 on floor, an 8.7 on hi-bar, and an 8.3 on the vault discipline.

Level 6

Ten-year-old Alex Cacchione of Round Lake Beach scored a 40.25 in the all-around. His meet included an 8.75 on vault, an 8.1 on hi-bar, a 7.6 on parallel bars, and a 6.5 on rings.

Running mate Zach Jung, a 12 year old from Round Lake Beach, finished seventh in the all-around (48.25). Jung's day featured a third-place effort on hi-bar (8.8). He also scored a 9.0 on vault, an 8.6 on rings, an 8.25 on parallel bars, and a 7.3 on the floor exercise.

Twelve-year-old Ryan Kmiec, also from Round Lake Beach, had the best meet out of all of the Eagle gymnasts. Kmiec nearly won the all-around, finishing second with a score of 54.15. His day included a first in hi-bar (9.3) and second-place effort in the rings (9.6), pommel horse (8.8), and floor exercise (8.65). Kmiec also took third in the parallel bars with an 8.9. His vault routine just missed a medal, where he tallied an 8.9.

Unfortunately, 11-year-old Jeremy Schnur of Round Lake was unable to attend due to illness.

"I'm really proud of how far we've come in such a short time," said head coach, Steve Cacchione. "The boys worked hard, have a great attitude, and most importantly, have a lot of fun."

Both state competitions were held at Glenbard South High School in Glen Elsen.

American Eagle opened its doors in the summer of 2000. Cacchione said that most of the boys had never competed before and that this is the second year American Eagle has officially competed in meets altogether.

"They all started at beginner and moved up, again, with a lot of hard work and dedication," the coach said.

On a related note, 14-year-old American Eagle gymnast Kelsi Santos of Lake Villa has qualified for the Level 8 regional competition to be held in Kentucky in May.

CLC baseball looks to regroup

By ROB BACKUS
Lakeland Correspondent

CLC baseball is exactly where Coach Gene Hanson thought his team would be at this point in the season.

However, what Hanson didn't count on was a strong start followed by a mid-season relapse.

After starting the season 13-5, the Lancers were left reeling after their annual trip to Fla. over spring break.

CLC started the tournament with a 3-3 record but lost its last five games to finish the trip at 3-8.

"Our poor finish was a combination of things," Hanson said. "We made a lot of errors, we left a lot of runners on base and the pitchers started walking people. I don't know what happened. The team really fell apart as a whole."

Despite the fact that the Lancers' record dropped to 16-10 overall, Hanson is not disheartened about his team.

"I'm not upset in the least, and I'm not giving up," Hanson said. "I'm optimistic. The kids are fighters, and I'm looking for them to respond."

Several players have also had successful seasons so far, including: Alex Frank (.486 average, five home runs, 31 RBI, 27 runs scored, 10 steals); Shawn Schuler (.381, 24 RBI, 22 runs, 2-2 pitching record); Russ Schaibly (.358, three home runs, 24 RBI, 17 runs, 4-1 pitching record); Chris Malec (2-3, 1.50 ERA, 40 K); and Paul Gagliardi (3-0 record).

"Alex has been our most consistent player," Hanson said. "He's having a great year. And Chris should have a much better record; we just haven't scored any runs for him."

With around 30 games left in the season, including their entire Skyway Conference schedule, Hanson is looking for his team to make a run. And there are several things for Hanson to be optimistic about at the halfway point of the season.

For one, his team has almost completely avoided injury. Secondly, the mistakes his team made on the Fla. trip were correctable. Also, Hanson is welcoming last weekend's snowstorm as a way to allow his team to get over the poor trip.

"We're going to have some time off because of the bad weather," Hanson said. "That will allow the kids to regroup and forget about what happened."

Curtain Call

PM&L Theatre's renovation project is complete

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The curtain rose for PM&L Theatre, as the limelight revealed the renovations to one of Antioch's beloved institutions. The official dedication took place immediately following the ribbon-cutting ceremony on March 23. The open house was nearly packed to capacity as theater-goers, dignitaries and curious residents came in to see the revamped theatre with a new interior and amenities that barely offer a hint of its former self.

The front lobby has been expanded as well as the balcony and an upper level lobby. In addition to a new coffee room, both restrooms are larger and have been updated. President Tom Hausman said the auditorium has been renamed in memory of Spiering, and that the sprinkler system has been dedicated to Homer and Francis LaPlant in honor of their bequest.

The theater group that became PM&L Theatre began in 1960. "We didn't intend to have members," said Betty Smouse, publicity director. "That just happened." Nonetheless, the founding 12 or 13, including Betty who pitched in $5 with her husband Ken Smouse's $5, gave $10 each to be part of the Palette, Masque and Lyre (PM&L) Theatre group.

"It all started when the PTA held open auditions for 'Time Out for Ginger' for a fundraising play," said Ken. "There were all sorts of people in the auditorium. I thought if that many people want to do this play, there is a place here for community theater."

Ken and Betty chose the name PM&L as the theater's name at their college was P&M. "We weren't too creative about it," said Ken. "We added lyre to represent the musical arts (with palette representing physical art and masque representing theatrical art)."

By 1964, the group rented the space that was to become the permanent home of PM&L Theatre at 877 Main St., Antioch.

"The first year we rented this building, we thought it would be lucky if we were still here after one year," said Ken.

Betty added, "It was so weird when we first got this theater. It had a dirt floor and we had to redo the basement first with pea gravel and then a boardwalk."

For a long time, PM&L Theatre never repeated any of the shows it had previously done. "We went 20 years without repeating," said Ken.

"It was a matter of pride, but then you realize people have their favorites that they like to see." Betty noted that musicals tend to be the ones people want to see over and over again.

Hausman, who has been with PM&L for 31 of its 41 seasons, said, "You can have culture in your own backyard. While it's fun to go into the big city, it's not necessary."

He added that the lifeblood of the theater has been community support. "We're into our 42nd year," said Hausman. "We've been kept alive by community support. We have to have this community support."

One-third of the generous Dolly Spiering bequest went toward this renovation, the rest is in an investment account to help keep PM&L an Antioch tradition well into the future.

"Not-for-profit theaters like ours must depend on the kindness of benefactors to continue to bring live theater to audiences," Hausman said.

PM&L is selling tiles to help offset costs. The tiles will eventually fill the north wall of the new coffee room in the lower level.

"This is a great way to have the community be a part of the renovation," said Hausman. "Everybody can help to make PM&L Theatre better."

All donations to PM&L Theatre are tax-deductible. Tiles for the "wall of thanks" will be sold in three sizes.

A 4 by 8-inch tile with three lines of up to 13 letters will cost $50. An 8 by 8-inch tile with five lines of up to 13 letters will cost $100. A 12 by 12-inch tile with seven lines of up to 19 letters will cost $500. Logos can be included on the tile.

Samples of the tiles can be seen at the theater.

Hausman said the tiles would be for sale at least through the end of this year.

"We're going to make this ongoing," he said. "We'll put a section of tiles as we get enough to do so. We're going to display some pieces of artwork in between the tiled sections. It will look very nice, and people will be able to see their names."

For more information about purchasing a tile, call Hausman at 847-395-7489.

'Unspoken Prayers' tackles issue of capital punishment head-on

CRITIC'S CHOICE

by Tom Witom

Unspoken Prayers," a new play by Claudia Allen and directed by Dennis Zacek, takes a close look at the pain and suffering that befalls a family when a violent, senseless death claims one of its children.

In the 90-minute drama, premiering at Chicago's Victory Gardens Theater without intermission, a 16-year-old high school student, Sara (played by Karlie Nurse with sweet innocence), is sexually attacked and murdered one night after a choir rehearsal.

Several scenes, effectively framed by brief blackouts, find the parents going from disbelief to anger as they grieve their lost daughter. When a young suspect is identified, Frank, the father played by Rob Riley, wants an "eye for an eye." He finds himself pitted against a middle daughter Becca (Kim Wade in a sensitive performance), who argues instead for life imprisonment without parole. "What about compassion?" Becca says as her father retorts "What about revenge?"

Meanwhile, Billie, the mother (Taylor Miller) is on the fence on the issue, and it's tearing at her marriage. For her, it's not a clear-cut black or white call.

The tragedy overshadows the family's life. Frank, a salesman, can't concentrate on his job. Drowning his sorrows in alcohol doesn't help, either. And a chasm develops physically between Frank and his spouse. At one point Frank makes a spectacle of himself, applying greasepaint to his face and a wearing a red clown's wig, he appears before the media, calling for justice.

At various times Sara's "living" spirit revisits members of the family, providing a measure of solace.

Probably the strongest moments of "Unspoken Prayers" come late in the play, when Billie takes a bus to the jail where her daughter's murderer is being held. En route, she meets Edna (Velma Austin), the mother of "Big Bob" (Kenn Head), a born-again convicted killer awaiting lethal injection for another crime. Their conversation is insightful as is the one Billie subsequently has with "Big Bob," even though she still finds there are more questions than answers to be had.

See "Unspoken Prayers" through May 4. For ticket information: 773-871-3000.

And the Oscar goes to: Alfred Hitchcock for 'Spring Break!'

Her throat tightens. Her upper lip beads with sweat, then twitches uncontrollably. Gripping the arms of a kitchen chair, she's forced to sit helplessly as the horrific scene unfolds from her "Rear Window." No, she hasn't wandered down some twisted back alley of her imagination ... She's just another mom watching the school bus unload her kids for spring break!

But, for once, THIS mom is determined to turn spring vacation into family fare, not a recurring nightmare ... I spend my final hours frantically packing the car for a trip to Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin ... just so Dad and I don't "Dial M For Murder" before the week is out. But it doesn't look good. Before the departing school bus turns the corner, it's all I can do to keep my mounting panic from turning into an all out "Frenzy." The kids happily bury my luggage under mounds of stuffed animals, GI Joes, and electronic games, ignoring Mom as she dislodges her dental work gnashing the "Torn Curtain." (Too late for an impromptu remake of "The Lady Vanishes.")

The sound of the second hand pounds in my ears. I wonder if good old Dad already knows he's been sucked into this macabre plot, and made his own escape as "The Man Who Knew Too Much." I better not take any chances ... as soon as I lay eyes on him, I descend on him like a crop duster on Cary Grant.

"No sense wasting time, dear," I state casually. (I don't want to raise suspicion before he figures out I need my own "39 Step Program" for compulsive caregivers.) I even pack a roadside picnic, hoping to slow down the pace and break up the backseat mayhem. What could be more peaceful than snacking on a Lake Michigan beach? I should ask, "What could be more frightening than being SHRED TO PIECES by hungry seagulls who think they're extras in "The Birds?"

When we finally pull up to our "water-front resort" in Sturgeon Bay, it's "a dark and stormy night" ... but not too dark to figure out that "water view" means watching rusty ore carriers bob in a driving rain. I shudder as I make out a flashing "Bat..." on the hotel vacancy sign. After we've checked in, it's unsettling when all the neon letters suddenly light up to read "FRESH BAIT."

No matter, I've finally found a tranquil moment in the middle of nowhere. The kids are "Spellbound" watching Sponge Bob on the room's cable TV. What better opportunity to rest those raw nerves in the shower.

CLOSE UP: (Water streaming out of shower-head)

CUT TO: (Bare feet in shower. Toes curling around Barbie high heels stuck in drain.)

PAN TO: (Mom sees distorted form approach through shower curtain.)

EXTREME CLOSE UP: (Mom's face contorts in agony as she lets loose with one last scream.)

PAN BACK TO: (Child in swimsuit and water wings repeatedly pokes mom with long red swim noodle.)

LES ON LIFE

Leslie Glazier-Werner

Again, I'm caught in a hopeless web, like the concrete sturgeon still wrapped in Christmas lights down the street. Next to lobotomizing yourself with cable TV, the second best thing kids like to do on vacation is "GO TO THE POOL — NOW!"

Let me tell you, by the end of the week I'm so delirious from chlorine fumes I could swear Alfred Hitchcock is in cameo as the pool cleaner. Luckily, Dad has a surprise field trip that appeals to the kids, once we pry their fingers off the pool deck...

Nothing says "fun" more than "phobia!" So let's all scamper down into a WWII submarine at the Wisconsin Maritime Museum to see who has claustrophobia! I keep thinking of Jimmy Stewart in "Vertigo," only I'm practically horizontal as our tour guide moves us through progressively smaller chambers in the U.S.S. Cobia I grow increasingly anxious ... I've gone through this closed in sense of no escape before ... I can't help myself ... I grab the captain's microphone. It says, "speak normally and hold your mouth one half inch from the mike." I shriek, as "normally" as possible, "next time, just rope me to my kitchen chair!"

Marriott Theatre in Lincolnshire breaks its own record

Marriott Theatre in Lincolnshire is breaking its own record once again as the most subscribed musical theatre in the United States.

Following a successful 2002 season that featured such sell out hits as "Damn Yankees", "1776", and "Funny Girl", and with a "coup" presentation of Andrew Lloyd Webber's "Cats" kicking off the new 2003 season, The Marriott Theatre was poised to break all records.

The 2003 subscription campaign topped 39,300 subscribers, nearly 200,000 tickets, surpassing the 2002 subscription mark by 1,200 in record time. Due to that success, The Marriott Theatre posted notice that the "2003 Subscription Series is SOLD OUT." That achievement, given the current economic climate has generated more excitement than usual for the 27-year old theatre. The Marriott Theatre musicals and its Theatre for Young Audience's productions will bring more than 400,000 people to Lincolnshire this year, selling its seven millionth ticket this season.

"Forever Plaid" takes the Marriott audience down memory lane, opening July 3 and playing through September 21. The longest running musical hit in Chicago history is back, full of the swinging smooth sounds of the '50s. From "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "Three Coins in the Fountain," "Catch a Falling Star," and "Shangri-La."

"Show Boat," the ultimate musical of Americana on the Mississippi, opens September 25 and runs through November 30. It's the Hammerstein and Kern classic that's rich in heart, history, music, and dancing.

Closing out this star-studded season is Irving Berlin's musical treasure chest "Annie Get Your Gun" starring Susie McMahon, who left audiences spell-bound in "Cats."

Opening December 4, "Annie Get Your Gun" runs through February 15, 2004.

"Hot Mikado" a feel good musical

Runs April 24 - June 29, reserve your seats now!

Terry James, executive producer, and Rick Boynton, artistic director, of the award winning Marriott Theatre in Lincolnshire, present "Hot Mikado" with preview performances beginning April 24 and running through June 29.

With two parts jazz, one part gospel, and a dash of swing, this feel good musical puts a new twist on the Gilbert and Sullivan classic "The Mikado." Adapted by David H. Bell, with wandering minstrel named Nanki-Poo, who is unable (due to a series of amusing complications) to wed his sweet-heart Yum-Yum. This musical tale of mistaken identities and hilarious impossibilities erupts with a score that runs the gamut from swing to gospel while remaining just a jitterbug away from the spirit of the 19th century original.

Ross Lehman will reprise his award winning role as Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner, with Chicago stars Felicia P. Fields (as the seductive and over-powering Katisha) and Susan Moniz (as the delicious Yum-Yum) also returning to the Marriott stage.

"Hot Mikado" also stars Adam Jacobs as Nanki-Poo, Ted Levy as the Mikado, Dwelvan David as Pooh-Bah, Christopher Morgan as Pish-Tush, Roberta Duchak as Pitti-Sing, and Karla L. Beard as Peep-Bo. Also featured are Mathias Anderson, Christine Brooks, Bryan Crawford, Angela Feeney, Deric Harris, Kelly Kohnert, Craig Ramsay, Christopher Saunders and Jonathan Warren.

David H. Bell, award winning director and director of more than 40 Marriott Theatre productions, including last season's smash hit "Damn Yankees," return to direct.

Performances are held Wednesdays at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m., Thursdays and Fridays at 8 p.m., Saturdays at 5 p.m. and 8:30 p.m., and Sundays at 2:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Ticket prices range from $35 to $40. Wednesday and Sunday matinees and Sunday evening performances, students and senior citizens receive $5 off ticket prices.

Receive a complimentary dinner with the purchase of a full price theatre ticket for the Wednesday and Thursday evening performances. The Wednesday and Thursday night Complimentary Dinner has a limited availability and is not applicable with any other discount or offer.

Reservations with a major credit card can be made by calling the Marriott Theatre box office at 847-634-0200 or online at www.marriotttheatre.com.

Colorful Art Exhibition

Overflowing Whispers, a special art exhibition featuring the unique work of Lake Villa artist, Julie Twomey will be on display at Lake County Discovery Museum now - May 29. Featured in the Local Artist Gallery, the Overflowing Whispers exhibition will showcase many of Twomey's award winning watercolor and mixed-media paintings.

Originally a potter, Twomey began to work in watercolor in the early 1980's, painting in the traditional representational style. In 1999, Twomey made the transition to abstract paintings. The majority of her current paintings burst with colors and textures, giving a feeling of movement and rhythm. Her abstract works encourage each viewer to interpret the painting in their own way. They include watercolor, gouache, casein and acrylic along with combinations of these media.

When not creating her own works, Julie enjoys teaching and sharing her techniques with others through workshops. While at the Lake County Discovery Museum, visitors can also enjoy the award-winning interactive exhibitions the Lake County Mall of History, Vortex Roller Coaster Theater, and Bringing the World Home, featuring the world's largest collection of picture postcards. Gallery hours are Monday - Saturday 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday 1 - 4:30 p.m. Admission is $5.50 for adults, $2.50 for youth ages 4 - 17 and free for children 3 and under. For information call 847-968-3400 or visit www.lakecountymuseum.org.

On Sunday, April 20, The Lake County Folk Club will present Akire Bubar (pronounced Ah-key-ray Byu-bar) for her first visit to the club.

A highly spirited performer with engaging presence and polish, she is blessed with a strong and moving voice which she couples with seasoned guitar playing. From the stark clarity of an a cappella song, to a bouncy delta blues or a silly sing along, to intricate tales of the spirit deftly illustrated in smooth, delicate guitar work and a voice that is sure and flowing, Akire presents an evening to remember.

Opening the show is "Queen of the Lake County Folk Festival" Kate Moretti, who will feature songs of the "joys" of motherhood and suburban living.

Admission is $10 for general public, $8 for club members and $5 for seniors and students.

Performances will be at The Greenleaf Grill, 301 Greenleaf St., Park City, (Eastside of Greenleaf St., north of Route 120 (Belvidere Road.) and south of Washington St.) For more information phone 847-949-5355.

A mental health crisis

Anger Management

Rating
PG-13

Crude sexual content and language

Director
Peter Segal

Starring
Jack Nicholson, Adam Sandler, Marisa Tomei

There was hope here, for a funny, quirky and interesting picture. It got muddled about a half-hour in, however. Ten-year-old Dave Buznik is humiliated, as he is about to get his first kiss and the local bully pulls his pants down around his ankles, leaving Dave bare bottomed.

Twenty-five years later Dave, now played by Adam Sandler, is still uncomfortable with public affection. He allows his boss to take credit for his ideas. His girlfriend of two years, Linda (Marisa Tomei), constantly encourages him to be more aggressive. She truly believes in Dave but can hardly coax a good-bye kiss from him at the airport, a very public place, as he leaves on a business trip.

On board the plane, Dave sits next to Dr. Buddy Rydell (Jack Nicholson), a self-help guru in anger management. What takes place is a very funny exchange with a flight attendant and an air marshal that leads to Buddy being charged with assault. The court proceedings are fun, with the late Lynne Thigpen presiding as the judge, who is a former patient of Buddy's. She sentences Dave to attend sessions with Dr. Rydell, to learn to control his angry impulses.

There are some laugh-out-loud moments, but then there's Nicholson's hairy arm wrapped around a wary Adam Sandler, as they share a bed, and a wacky Woody Harrelson in drag. In fact, Freud would have a field day interpreting this script. There's a sexual undercurrent to nearly everything that occurs, often homosexual. In an effort to present an "oh, so modern" comedy, with a sophisticated outlook, at times "Anger Management" appears self-conscious and even stereotypical. As with Dave, there may be an untapped well of anger just below the surface.

The four popcorn box rating is for this all-star cast performance; there are many recognizable faces in small roles. And there's some funny stuff here. But a little more time on the couch with the script doctor was in order.

To the high life

A Talk with... Neil Jordan
By George O. Singleton

Like "Ocean's 11," Neil Jordan's "The Good Thief" is also a free spirited remake about a gambling wise guy who plans a casino heist with a cast of shady, eccentric characters.

Jordan wrote and directed this film starring Nick Nolte, Ralph Fiennes, and Tcheky Karyo. Showcased with wonderful cinematography, this complex story has lots of texture, with nubby sub plots woven into the fabric. Jordan crowns the story by insinuating sexy and talented, young newcomer Nutsa Kukhianidze throughout the planning and execution of the heist.

Although much of Jordan's recent material ("The Crying Game," and "Interview with the Vampire") has been adapted from other screenplays or books, Jordan reveals he is currently writing a novel so he'll have original work to base future films on. With so many movies focused on visual events (explosions, CGI, etc.), Neil is pleased to say that his films "...are not limited to that." Too many films seem to forget the dialogue, "...nobody talks in movies anymore," Neil says. Neil Jordan not only has a lot to say, but it's actually worth listening to.

Starring

Nick Nolte, Tcheky Karyo, Ralph Fiennes, Nutsa Kukhianidze

Nick Nolte is the perfect choice to portray the down and out, whiskey voiced gambler, retired thief, and heroin addict, known as Bob. An expatriate that we meet as he holes up, to shoot up, in the toilet of a seedy Paris nightclub. He's had a lot of experience operating on this level; as he's able to rouse himself well enough to save a young man from being gunned down, and to rescue the passport of a wise beyond her years, young woman named Anne (Nutsa Kukhianidze). Her passport is held by a pimp to keep her working as a prostitute.

The club and the conversation between Bob and Anne set the pace for the film. It is at once frenetic and reflective.

An old ally entices Bob into one last heist. A big score to go out on, the theft of priceless artwork at a Monte Carlo casino, as well as the cash from its vaults. Bob does what he's probably done a few other times. He handcuffs himself to his bed and tells Anne not to release him until he's clean of the drugs — cold turkey. A few days later he emerges, sober enough to elude his long-time nemesis and friend, Roger (Tcheky Karyo), a detective, who knows that Bob is planning something and warns him that he'll face a long prison sentence if he's caught.

Ralph Fiennes plays a deadly serious art dealer to the underground trade. Powerful performances help fill-in the loopholes in the plot. Heist X betrayal = high stakes action.

Celebrate Easter at The Garlands

Celebrate Easter at a lavish brunch, guaranteed to please every member of the family, in the beautiful new Winslow Dining Room at The Garlands of Barrington, located at 1000 Garlands Lane, Barrington, on Sunday, April 20, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

A strolling violinist will be on hand to entertain the adults while the Easter Bunny amuses the children. The cost for this memorable holiday festivity, including a commemorative photo with the Easter Bunny, is $29.95 per adult and $11.95 for children under age 10, all-inclusive. Reservations are a must and can be made by calling 847-304-1996.

Executive Chef Rick Rizner carefully prepared the bountiful buffet menu. Fresh fruits, domestic and tropical, along with cheeses from around the world, pan-seared chicken breast prepared with tomatoes, olives and button mushrooms and Tilapia Florentine, will be on the buffet as well.

Egg lovers will enjoy the personalized fresh egg station where eggs, including custom omelets, will be prepared to order. Speaking of eggs, at noon and 1:30 p.m., children will be invited to participate in the Garland's first annual Easter Egg Hunts in the arbor-lined Galleria Courtyard along with the Easter Bunny himself.

A signature Garlands' Sweet Table including crispy apple cobbler with caramel sauce and vanilla bean ice cream, assorted mini pastries, cookies and petite fours, will be available to end the meal, along with coffee, tea, milk and fresh juices.

In addition to this very special holiday event, a bountiful buffet brunch is held at The Garlands every Sunday. Breakfast with the Easter Bunny

It's becoming a tradition," said Tom Marciciak, commander of the Lake Zurich American Legion Post 964. "This is a great time for families to get a head start on the Easter holiday celebration."

The post is located at 51 Lions Drive, just north of Main Street in downtown Lake Zurich. Token gifts will be available, and kids can get their photo taken with the Easter Bunny.

"This is a twist on what used to be just a pancake breakfast fund raiser," Marciciak said. "We think it's a better way of supporting community interests."

The all-you-can-eat breakfast includes pancakes, scrambled eggs, sausage, a variety of toppings for the pancakes, and plenty of coffee, milk and juice. Admission prices are $2.50 for children ages 4-5; $3.50 for children 6-12; $5 for adults and $4.50 for seniors. Kids 3 and under are free. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Opera theatre performs for the young community

Marla Forbes, founder and general director of Opera Theatre Highland Park, is taking her performance of "The Marriage of Figaro" on the road to Cooke Magnet School, a K-5 fine arts elementary Magnet School in Waukegan, on Thursday, April 17, from 1:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

The interactive performance of "The Marriage of Figaro" at Cooke Magnet School will feature the following cast members in full costume: Michelle Areyza as Susanna; Laurel Cameron as Cherubino; Kevin Kees as Count Almaviva; Anisha McFarland as Countess and baritone Eric McKeever as Figaro.

According to Principal Dr. Linda Meczyk, Cooke Magnet School enriches traditional education by incorporating some form of the fine arts into the student curriculum on a monthly basis, whether it is a sculpting, theater performance, dance, painting or other artistic endeavors.

Familiar songs and humor in "The Marriage of Figaro" will draw children into the story, introduce them to the joys of opera and open up avenues for further discussion. Dr. Meczyk hopes to familiarize the students with the history of the opera in order to make this performance a true learning experience, from understanding the story to an appreciation of the fine musical performances and direction.

In another effort to bring opera to the young, several talented North Shore students will sing in the chorus of "The Marriage of Figaro" with performances on April 12, 13, and 19. Highland Park High School students Erica Jaffe, Fran Levy, Emily Scoot and Catherine Vaughn recently made the IMEA All State Choir.

Three accomplished singers from Lake Forest, Annie Larem, Catherine Larem, and Phoebe Rusch, will also sing in the chorus. Phoebe, a student at Deerpath Middle School in Lake Forest, has sung with the Lyric Opera Children's Chorus and will also appear with Chicago Opera Theatre. Annie Larem, a junior at Loyola Academy, and her sister Catherine Larem, a freshman at Woodlands Academy, became interested in opera through their voice studies at the Lake Forest Symphony Music School.

Erica Jaffe, who recently performed in the Highland Park High School production of "Les Miserables," is excited to participate in the program. "I think having young people in the production will make it more fun for kids who come to the opera and it will show them that it is possible to actively participate in the arts at a young age," Jaffe said.

"The marriage of Figaro" will be performed in English in the round at the Highland Park Community House, 1991 Sheridan Road, Highland Park in a one-hour family matinee at 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 12, in a full performance at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 13, and in a full performance at 8 p.m. on Saturday, April 19 at the North Shore center for Performing Arts, 9501 Skokie Boulevard in Skokie.

Tickets for "The Marriage of Figaro" are $12 per person for the family show on April 12 and $25 for the Sunday matinee on April 13 and $32.50 for the evening performance on April 19.

For additional information, contact the Opera Theatre at 847-831-2938.

Rovers South Side CD release party

The Chicago Rover, a multi-talented trio that blends traditional Celtic music with contemporary stylings, will celebrate the release of its new CD, "Marshfield," on April 18, Friday, at the Kerry Piper, 7900 Joliet Road, Willowbrook. Phone: 630-325-3732. Show time for the Chicago Rovers is 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. There is no cover charge.

The Chicago Rovers are Mick Archer (vocals, piano, guitar), Edgar Gabriel (violin, mandolin), and Sheridan Smith (vocals, percussion). All three are seasoned music veterans with a wide range of experience in many genres, including classical, jazz, folk, and musical theater. Mick Archer formed the Chicago Rovers in 1998. The band released its self-titled debut CD in 2000, which earned them critical praise and airplay on Chicago radio (WXRT, WGN, and WBEZ). They also have performed live on TV and radio many times.

"Marshfield," the band's new CD, features original tunes, plus many traditional and non-traditional styles. For example, "Spanish Lady" is given a funky, New Orleans-style treatment, while "Danny Boy" is performed as an avant-garde jazz piano solo. For the traditionalists, the band includes several medleys: "Planxty's Medley" (a tribute to Turlough O'Carroll) and "Dennis Murphy's Polka/Irish Rovers." Well-known violinist Ruby Harris contributes an impressive four-song medley of jigs, also.

The 15-song CD is highlighted by some very special guest appearances. Joining the Chicago Rovers is a bevy of Chicagoland's top talent, including noted violinists Ruby Harris, Dave Dalessandro and Emily Randle. Other well-known performers on the CD include Doug Corella (drummer for Verve Pipe), bass player Gordon Patriarca, drummer Jeff Sandler and Kent Minor (woodwinds, brass). Multi-instrumentals for the session include Troy Neihardt, Tony O'Connell and Gus Freidlander. Please visit the website at www.mickarcher.com for the band's schedule.

'Live Lightly'

Excitement abounds at the 2003 Earth Day Celebration Saturday, April 19 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at McHenry County College, 8900 Route 14, Crystal Lake. This year's theme is "Live Lightly" on the Earth.

Just in time for Easter weekend, children can dye free-range eggs with Earth-friendly dyes, participate in a scavenger hunt and join our "Barter Bash" by bringing an unwanted toy to trade for other toys. These are just a few of the hands-on activities that families can participate in during the event. There will also be food, games, prizes and lots of educational, interactive booths on topics such as organic gardening, solar power and more. Vote for your favorite booth in the first Best Booth Contest.

Participate in two recycling drives. Bring your used athletic shoes for donation to the Second Annual Nike S.O.S. (Save-Our-Soles) Shoe Recycling Program. The shoes will be made into surfaces for running tracks, playgrounds, and tennis courts. Also bring your used cellular phones for donation to an agency that re-programs phones for victims of domestic abuse. For more information call the McHenry County Defenders at 815-338-0393 or visit the website at www.mcdef.org.

4 women lead lineup for Ravinia

Norah Jones heads summer schedule

By CHRIS JONES
Tribune Arts Reporter

The Ravinia Festival Monday announced its 2003 slate of pop concerts, headlined by four female vocalists who are making their debuts at the outdoor music venue.

The four are multiple Grammy winner Norah Jones (July 8); the queen of soul, Aretha Franklin (July 9); country star K.D. Lang (Aug. 16); and the blues influenced Susan Tedeschi (Aug. 15).

Tedeschi will share the bill with Chicago's Koko Taylor.

Also appearing at Ravinia for the first time this summer are the Blind Boys from Alabama (June 24, with Buddy Guy), Pat Benetar (July 1), Joao Gilberto (July 29), Peter Frampton (Aug. 5), and Robert Cray (Sept. 5, with John Hiatt).

Returning acts include the BoDeans (July 7), Art Garfunkel (June 8), the Neville Brothers

(June 17), Huey Lewis and the News (June 18), the Beach Boys (June 25), Doobie Brothers (July 2), the Chieftans (July 15), Blues Traveler (July 16), Lyle Lovett (July 22), and Peter, Paul & Mary (July 30).

As in past years, Tony Bennett will do a two-night stand in late summer. This year's dates for the classic song stylist are Aug. 30 and 31. For more information call 847-266-5100.

Sexton appointed: Brenda Sexton on Monday was named director of the Illinois Film Office, replacing Ron Ver Kuilen. Sexton, 48, a member of the Chicago Film Critics Association and the Goodman theater Women's Board, was most recently executive managing director of GVA. Williams Real Estate Services.

The Illinois Film Office hopes Sexton's deal-making background in the commercial real estate business will help it attract productions.

Crane count volunteers wanted

Volunteers are needed in the McHenry County area to assist with the International Crane Foundation's annual crane count.

This year's crane count will be conducted on Saturday April 12.

Early on a Saturday morning every April, thousands of volunteers gather at assigned wetlands in portions of five states to look for evidence of nesting cranes. This annual count effort is spearheaded by the International Crane foundation, which compiles the data received from these amateur crane watchers to monitor the abundance and distribution of crane populations.

To register as a crane count volunteer or for more information, please call 815-943-0376.

Mundelein—Three of the four arrested for selling more than a kilo of cocaine at the Burger King drive-thru, pleaded guilty Monday in Lake County Circuit Court.

Fabian Guzman, the ex-manager at Burger King, is waiting for his jury trial April 16. Neisha N. Molina, 24, Guzman's common-law wife, agreed to a 4-and-a-half-year prison sentence after Guzman contended she knew nothing.

Ricardo Sanchez-Diaz, 37, who handed the kilo to Guzman, offered negotiating pleas and agreed to nine years in prison. Raul Borunda-Guzman, 20, accepted a 6-year sentence after only being a passenger in the car.

Guzman, Molina, Sanchez-Diaz, and Borunda-Guzman are Mundelein residents and illegal aliens.

Fire district fights Lakeland FOI request

Lake Villa Twp.—Lakeland Newspapers is moving forward in its pursuit of a Freedom of Information request for a document now known as the Lake Villa Fire Protection District Master Plan 2002-2012. The fire protection district's attorney, Bernard Wysocki, denied the initial request. If the appeal to the district is denied, the newspaper may move ahead with court action to obtain the report, which was first commissioned in July 2001 but never opened to the public.

Surprise buyer for YMCA site

Land expected to fetch $10 million, but camp will likely close

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

It is all but a done deal. Suzi Schmidt, president of the Lake County Board and member of the Forest Preserve Board, announced the impending purchase of 254 acres of property to be known as the Hastings Lake Forest Preserve.

The property, which includes the lake, but not the YMCA membership center and its surrounding 11 acres, is expected to be sold for $10 million, according to Schmidt.

The Forest Preserve Board Acquisitions Committee was set to meet at the Hastings Lake site on April 10, to make its final decision on the agreement with the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago. On April 11, the finance committee reviews the matter, and the last step in the process is for the County Board to approve the deal.

Schmidt said she "expects no problems" when the proposed purchase comes before the board on April 18. The closing would probably occur this summer, she said.

Bill Bocox, president of the Lake Villa Fire Protection District was relatively tight-lipped about the matter. While he did confirm the district is "working on an intergovernmental agreement," he was hesitant to say more.

"We have no contract, yet," he said. "I'll have more to say after the (county) board meets and we have a signed agreement."

Although Bocox would not discuss the pending terms of the agree-

War putting some health issues on back burner

County sets up new hotline for SARS

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Bombed buildings and blown up people broadcasted daily and nightly from Iraq on television are temporarily causing people to forget about health problems according to one Lake County official.

And one of the newest health concerns is Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS).

Lake County Board Member Bob Powers, from District 16, sits on the Lake County Health Committee and is concerned about the new illness.

"We feel there is going to be a lot of questions on this," said Powers, explaining why the county set up a SARS Hotline at 847-377-8350 on April 8.

"I think there is a lot of interest right now, but it is absolutely being overshadowed by the war," said Powers. "I believe that once the war is over, this is going to be a big story."

Powers also said it could be a double whammy when the weather warms up, and the West Nile Virus scare continues.

SARS is a respiratory illness of unknown etiology, with an onset since February 1, originating in China, with confirmed cases in Vietnam and Singapore, according to information released by the health department.

The leading hypothesis for the cause of SARS is that it is caused by a virus.

SARS usually begins with a fever greater than 100.4 F and sometimes is associated with chills or other symptoms including headache, general feeling of discomfort and ment, Schmidt said the fire protection district's cost would be exactly that of the forest preserve.

"We're not going to make a profit on this," she said.

The piece of property the county plans to offer to the fire protection district is high ground on Grass Lake Road.

The complete marketed parcel of 254 acres contains a 75-acre lake and about 30 acres of wetlands, and net buildable land of about 130 acres.

While Nicole Leiter, spokesperson for the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago would not confirm that a deal was pending with the forest preserve, specifically, she stated, "We are in the process of making a deal. We feel good about our progress."

Emily Garrity, a spokesperson for the Hastings Lake Community coalition, said she was disappointed that the Chicago Metro Y organization would not work with the coalition, but was glad the forest preserve was making the purchase.

Garrity and nine other former Hastings Lake YMCA board members resigned from the YMCA board and formed the coalition in late October 2002 in response to the Metropolitan board's decision to sell the property. The coalition had hoped to be able to purchase the three campsites in their entirety to form an independent local YMCA.

When the Metropolitan board saw the outpouring of community support for the facility, it took a sharp turn, deciding to retain the membership facility—the only income-generating part of the property—and sell the remainder of the land.

With the incentive for purchasing the sites removed, the coalition was effectively de-mobilized.

According to George Richter, one of the former Hastings Lake board members, the facility had generated over $1 million a year for the Metropolitan Chicago organization, which includes 31 sites and 100 satellite sites throughout the greater Chicagoland area.

The Chicago-based YMCA board of directors, determining a need for money to support less profitable operations, opted to sell the Hastings Lake property, asserting it needed more than $6 million to make it viable.

This figure was disputed by the coalition, which maintained it would cost about half that amount to repair and upgrade the property.

The Original asking price for the property was $12-15 million.

Garrity expressed surprise that the final bid was as high as it was.

In the promotional packet sent to prospective buyers, the Metropolitan YMCA presented several possible uses for the land. One suggested scenario included 300 one-third-acre homesites. The site was also marketed as a possible location for a golf course.

"I am happy the green space and wildlife will be preserved," said Garrity, when she heard about the forest preserve's plans.

Garrity said she hopes the forest preserve will find some new ways to use the campsites.

Schmidt indicated no formal plans have yet been made regarding use of the space, although she confirmed the buildings would probably be removed.

Garrity expressed the hope that perhaps an in-ground pool at the west site (off Munn road) might be kept and used by the community.

Some kind of trail system is undoubtedly part of the plan, as the forest preserve has made a network of hiking and biking trails a priority in designing the expansion and development of forest preserve property.

Lake County does not administer any active recreation programs on any forest preserve property.

body aches. Some people also experience mild respiratory symptoms at the outset. After two to seven days, some people may develop a dry, nonproductive cough that might progress.

The incubation period for SARS is typically 2-7 days.

As of April 8, there have been 2,223 cases worldwide and 78 deaths.

In the United States there have been 148 confirmed cases of SARS, with nine cases in Illinois.

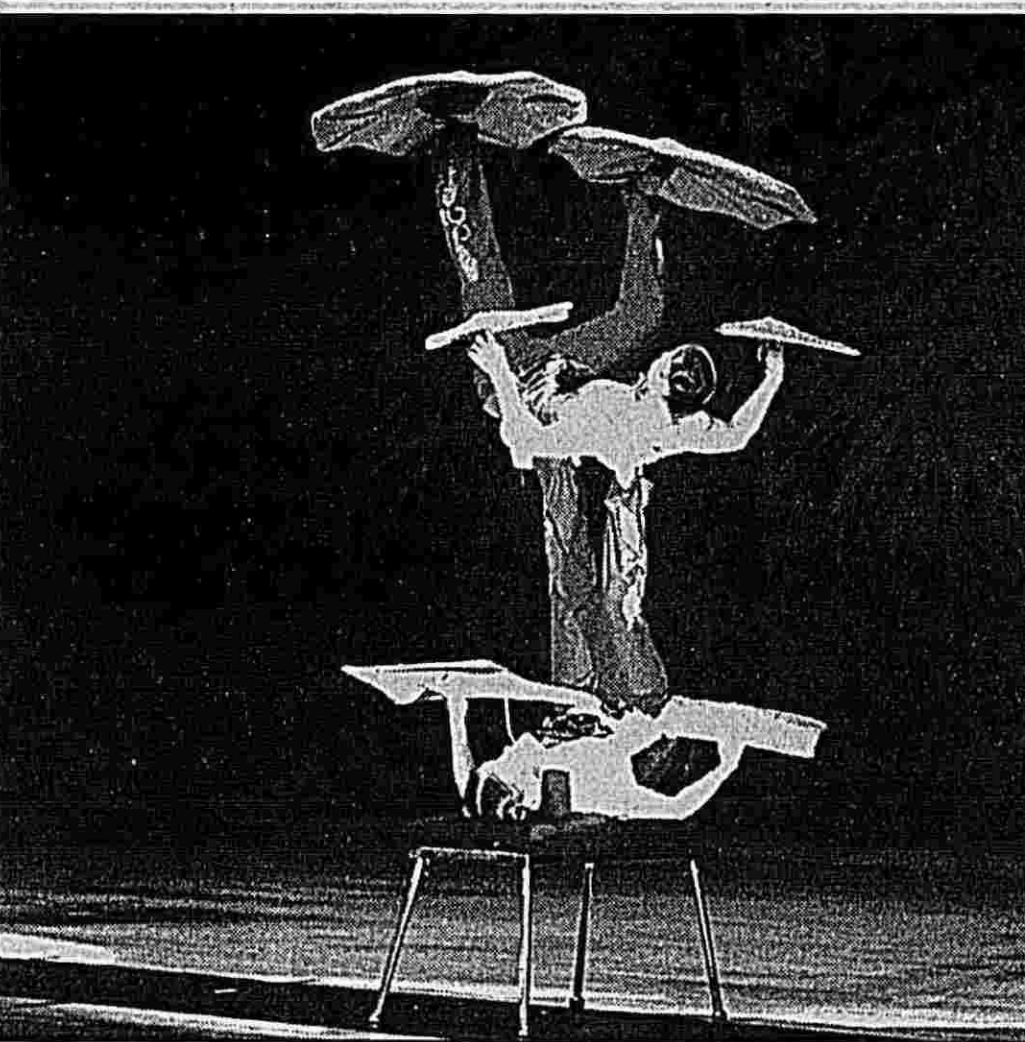

According to Lake County Dr. Victor Plotkin, the State only gives out the number of cases by region and does not release which county they are in because of confidentiality reasons.

However, Leslie Pietrowski, communications manager for the health department, said, "There is one suspect case in Lake County and a total of six in the Metro-Chicago Area."

She added that there are three reported cases downstate.

To minimize spread and exposure, people are encouraged to practice good, hand hygiene; cover one's mouth and nose when coughing and sneezing; and not share someone's silverware, towels, bedding or clothing without first cleaning properly.

Senators help push tax bill

The Illinois State Senate passed Senate Bill 154, which would permit counties to hold a referendum to increase the county sales tax for the purpose of improving transportation. The bill, sponsored by Senator Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) and Co-Sponsored by Senators William Peterson (R-Buffalo Grove) and Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest), passed by a 52-1 margin.

All four of Lake County's State Senators, including Link, Peterson, Garrett and Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), voted in favor of the legislation. If approved by the General Assembly and Governor Rod Blagojevich, the bill would permit counties to hold a referendum to give voters an opportunity to increase the county sales tax by a quarter-cent. The Lake County Board would like to ask voters if they would authorize use of this revenue source to improve an overburdened roadway system.

County offers support to its employees called to war duty

At its meeting on Tuesday, April 8th, the Lake County Board gave special recognition to seven county employees who have been called to duty for Operation Iraqi Freedom. The seven employees were called to active duty, while at least ten others are awaiting a possible call to active service.

Lake County Board Chairman Suzi Schmidt has been in contact with the three women and four men who have temporarily left their positions as employees with the county to serve at their posts in the armed forces. Chairman Schmidt sent letters and email to the employees and their families expressing support and encouragement.

"We are extremely proud and grateful of all those who volunteer to serve this country in the armed services, and in particular, this county board recognizes its employees and all county residents who are giving the ultimate sacrifice in the name of democracy and freedom," said Chairman Schmidt. "The board members, employees and residents of Lake County are praying for the families of the men and women serving in the military and for their safe return."

Employees on active duty come from several Lake County departments. Four of the seven are employees of the Lake County Sheriff's Office, one is an employee at the Health Department/Community Health Center, one is an employee at Winchester House and the last is a member of the State's Attorney's Office.

Lake County will pay the employees the difference between their military pay and their county government salary in order to minimize any financial burden on those deployed to active duty. The employees and their families will also continue to receive the county's insurance and retirement benefits while on duty.

Park District forms partnership with county Boys and Girls Club

The Waukegan Park District announced its intent to enter into a partnership with the Boys and Girls Club of Lake County. Through this collaborative effort, recreational opportunities for Waukegan residents will be enhanced and expanded, particularly for youth. Bill Durkin, president of the board of commissioners for the park district, stated, "We are most excited about this new partnership and the potential for long term benefits to the community."

The park district will provide the Boys and Girls Club a long term lease at the Community Recreation Center, 724 S. Genesee, Waukegan, so that it can provide affordable programs and services for children, ages 6-18. The park district will continue to offer programming opportunities outside the hours used by the Boys and Girls Club.

Both organizations will cooperate to enhance such existing programs as Junior Bulldogs Basketball, Waukegan Jazz Steppers, Family Night Roller-skating, and Urban 4-H. The Boys and Girls Club will promote its schedule of programs and services in the quarterly magazine published by the park district and distributed to over 35,000 homes in the community.

For further information contact Chris Finkel, executive director for the club, at 847-259-4878, or Alicia Mentell, superintendent of recreation for the park district, at 847-360-4723.

EDITORIAL

There is need to do more than just say no

A flood of no votes sunk a majority of tax increase propositions on the consolidated election ballot last week. Opponents of higher taxes, particularly proposed hikes that involve education, in satisfaction with the outcome might be moved to think that their job is done.

That judgment, in our opinion, is in error and far off the mark considering the stakes. Even as the impact of a tax increase defeat sinks in, now is the time for citizens to roll up their sleeves and take the next step. Proper utilization of the resources at hand looms as a first priority. Especially when taxation for public education is considered, there is nearly unanimous agreement on all sides that society is dealing with a flawed system.

There is a segment of the population convinced that school spending is out of control and that the way public education is delivered is riddled with mismanagement. Another faction is convinced that lack of state funding is to blame. Still another side of opinion is that citizens can and should do more to insure a quality education for children.

The wreckage of defeated referenda is not a pretty sight. Voters in Gurnee elementary voted down an education rate increase for the third time. The district already has eliminated 13 teaching positions. Voters also KO'd requests for more taxes in Antioch District 34, Grayslake District 46 and Grass Lake District 36. Another issue going down for the third time was voting in Libertyville and Vernon Hills for selling bonds to fund library expansion.

Aware that new taxes could be created down the road, Highwood voters defeated a home rule proposition that was offered as a way to increase city revenues with the imposition of a sales tax increase largely paid for by out-of-towners.

Clearly, where essentially the same proposition was defeated three times, there is a disconnect between voters and officials representing them. Elected officials need to find out what people want while at the same time demonstrating that they can manage what they've been given in the way of tax income.

Where taxes were increased April 1, in Lake Bluff elementary, Fremont (rural Mundelein) and Emmons Elementary in the Antioch area, there was more than average parent and citizen involvement in both the referenda campaign and school affairs in general.

Citizen involvement is essential to a well run school and an education program that fosters public support. Grayslake District 46 is an example of a system where there is citizen distrust in the way the school is being operated. Many parents became disenchanted several years ago with an outcome-based education program put in place by the board of education and the administration. Citizens not only defeated a request for more money, they also elected three new members to the board. This is citizen involvement to the utmost. Citizens have become increasingly involved in direct management of library affairs in Libertyville and Vernon Hills with the result that a questionable financing program for expansion was defeated and some new faces were elected to the board of directors.

Dispassionate observers of public education see evidence of disrespect of taxpayers on the part of administrators and BOE members. That alone could account for a certain amount of distrust. One of the unfortunate fall outs of this adversarial relationship is "teacher bashing" where professionals in the classroom are unfairly singled out to receive the brunt of public criticism. Aside from questionable tactics of zealous union agents at salary negotiation time, teachers incorrectly and unnecessarily are targeted.

It cannot be emphasized enough that public education benefits when citizens and parents are involved in the education process. There is reason enough to believe that no can become yes when all sides are informed and trust each other.

Gutsy telemarketer: Say a kind word

Eighteen persons convinced me that telemarketing is as American as apple pie and that telemarketers are upstanding, honorable citizens. (If convincing was necessary).

They are members of the dedicated, hard-working staff of telemarketers employed by the company that publishes this newspaper. Lakeland Media telemarketers contact potential customers about placing private party want ads. They provide subscription ordering service. All of them work part-time. They range in age from college students to senior citizens. Some of them are single parents. Several are in the military.

The Lakeland telemarketers work Monday through Thursday from 5-8:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. They're polite, not pushy. And they don't get angry when treated brusquely or with disrespect. The Lakeland staffers understand what "no" means. They have cheerful dispositions and move on when rejected.

Lakeland's telemarketing team is a tiny spec of an industry that fuels the American economy. Statistics show that in 2002, 185 million purchases representing approximately $296 billion in sales were generated by telemarketers. Short-sighted citizens and complacent politicians want to put this industry out of business or muzzle telemarketing into the backwaters of commerce.

About half the states, including Illinois and Wisconsin, have or are putting into operation "do not call" lists. The federal government is getting into the act with its own version of call registries to be operated by the Federal Trade Commission. Don't our senators and congressmen have enough problems without getting into the "do not call" business?

Until the same folks griping about telemarketing calls turn their attention to junk mail and e-mail spam, I'll say "phooey" to their bruised sensibilities. More power to the brave warriors of the land lines, those fearless telemarketers.

Back to normal

After living in a fish bowl for six months, life has returned to normal (pretty much) for Heidi and Mike

Smith. They're the Lake Forest couple who had their cramped 1920s Tudor style kitchen transformed into "modern as the minute" by North Shore craftsmen working under the watchful eye of "This Old House" camera crews and celebrity hosts Steve Thomas and Norm Abrams. Between filming and showing, Heidi and Mike were on stage for half a year, watching their original $80,000-$85,000 budget more than double with overtime and special features introduced by "This Old House." Last week's final segment revealed a secret we've been wondering. The Smiths said they'll be enjoying donations arranged by "This Old House" for a long time.

Noodling around

Engineering students at the College of Lake County will cook up bridges from three pounds of pasta noodles and glue at the Pasta Bridge Building Contest on April 16. The bridge must be no more than 22 inches in length, three to six inches in width and up to eight inches in height. Bridges will be tested for strength, and awards will be determined based on the highest ratio of the weight supported by the weight of the bridge. Cash awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners. No reports whether spaghetti will be served after the judging.

Waukegan casino—The spillover effects

By Gregory Jackson

Congratulations to our state and local elected officials supporting a Waukegan casino. While record government deficits are being reported these officials have obviously found a pool of money to be used solely in Lake County. One would have to assume that additional money was found to address the collateral issues of a Waukegan casino. Surely these elected officials would not ignore the spillover effects.

Finally, money found to expand Route 53 and widen the arterial east/west thoroughfares in Lake County. After all we will need a way to get people to and from the casino. Route 53 expansion lobbyists could have taken it a little easier if they knew this pool of money was out there. And to think some of these elected officials were once opposed to the expansion of Route 53.

Ah yes, additional funding to finally launch a meaningful affordable housing program. I think it goes without saying that most jobs being generated by the casino will not necessarily command a salary allowing casino employees to seek out residence in many of Lake County's municipalities. Fortunately this pool of money these elected officials have found may allow for housing subsidies.

How can we not be excited about additional money for education in our financially strapped school districts? When people move into Lake County to take advantage of casino employment opportunities their children will need to attend school. Though financial resources are limited now, and schools are already overcrowded, the remedy lies in the pool of money that these elected officials must know to exist. We must not forget the money for additional law enforcement. Should we expect no increase in alcohol related incidents, no increase in property crimes or no increase in violent crimes as a result of a new casino and collateral population growth? Of course not, because elected officials have obviously found a pool of money to assist with hiring of more police officers, not just in Waukegan but throughout the county.

Ah yes, money to offset the environmental impact a new casino may have. Development of open

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Cobay awaiting tollway decision

Ken Cobay, Republican activist from Waukegan who serves on the Illinois Tollway Authority, is wondering how much longer he'll have a job. His term is up in less than a month.

Cobay hopes to be one of the Republicans reappointed by Gov. Rod Blagojevich, but he's not sure. By statute, both parties have to be represented on the Tollway board.

When appointed to the Tollway post, Cobay relinquished his position as a Lake County Republican Central Committee member.

Beach Park Mayor Milt Jensen rounds out the list of new appointees to the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission. Representation is equally divided between municipalities and the Lake County Board. New Lake County Board representatives appointed earlier include Ann Malne, Riverwoods; Ann Flanagan Bassi, Highland Park; Mike Talbott, Lake Zurich, and Bob Sabonjian, Waukegan.

Stratton dedication

Mrs. William G. Stratton, whose late husband was governor of Illinois in the 1960s, has confirmed her attendance Sunday, June 1, at the dedication of the Stratton Room at the new Grant Township Administrative Center in Ingleside. Gov. Stratton was born and

Working hard

Now that the state has taken over collection of child support payments, the office of Lake County Circuit Clerk Sally Coffelt is handling less money, but working just as hard. With a staff of 140, the office administers the courts system on a budget of $4.7 million per year. Last fiscal year, the office turned over $11.1 in revenues, making it a

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Stop the monopolies

During the last year, a classic monopoly has asserted control on telephone and Internet users throughout our state. It's our local phone monopoly. That's a serious problem because it keeps prices artificially high on our monthly local phone bills, and on our high-speed Internet access! It also leads to second-rate service. But then, monopolies don't need to worry about consumer complaints because they have no competition.

It's time for our state regulators and elected officials at home and in Washington, DC to do a better job of promoting more competition for our local telephone and Internet service.

The future of America's phone and Internet service is at stake and consumers shouldn't be held hostage to sluggish, anti-competitive monopolies that charge too much.

Appeasing aliens

After reading letters to the editors, I became very disheartened. Dave Gorak pointed out the co-sponsorship of State Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-Barrington Hills) of the HB0060 bill. I want to convey to him my outrage of the willingness of public officials to appease illegal aliens and their representation in this country at the expense of us taxpayers.

I believe people who enter this country illegally are criminals and should be deported. But it seems that from federal down to the local government, appeasement is the rule when it comes to illegal aliens; and it seems your actions reinforce this. It's time for the average American to start speaking up about these types of out-of-control policies and programs.

I implore of Beaubien to reconsider his stance on the aforementioned bill. When this legal constituent cast her vote for him, my understanding was that he would represent me and other legal constituents. Please consider my views and the many others in the district with similar views when making future determinations on illegal alien matters.

This is the United States of America, not a flophouse for illegal aliens.

Stop the gouging

The gasoline stations have been saying they are not gouging consumers over the uneasiness regarding war in Iraq. Well this consumer says "hogwash." On Friday, March 14, the price of regular at the BP station at Route 134 and Nippersink in Round Lake, was selling at $1.78 per gallon and the Citgo at routes 120 and 134 advertised the same price.

Interestingly, less than 5 miles east on Route 120 at Route 45, the BP there advertised the exact same gas at $1.61 per gallon while the Shell station across the street was also at $1.61 per gallon. Why is there a difference of .17 cents per gallon at identical stations less than 5 miles apart?

As of Thursday, March 20, the price of regular gas at the BP of Round Lake was $1.74 per gallon while the BP in Grayslake was still at $1.61 per gallon. The Shell station across the street at Route 120 and Route 45 was selling regular gas at $1.58 per gallon. It does not take a genius to infer that oil companies are indeed gouging customers.

When I asked the attendant at the BP in Round Lake why their gas was at $1.74 per gallon and the same franchise in Grayslake was $1.61 per gallon, his reply was that he himself bought gas at the station in Grayslake. He could not of course explain why the Round Lake BP was still selling gas .13 per gallon higher than the station in Grayslake.

I think I have the answer to that question. GREED — plain and simple. Perhaps if consumers stopped buying their gas in Round Lake, and at other stations that are obviously gouging consumers, then the price of gas would more closely reflect what should be charged for that gas; gas that you can buy in Grayslake for a lot less money.

Sporting proposition

I have read with interest the accounts of Jack Martin's many crusades over the years. His constant letters to the editor, his interviews and addresses at public forums have been well covered by all the local newspapers. I have watched him juggle numbers and statistics to sway those easily persuaded by propaganda. The truth according to Jack Martin is nothing more than small bits of information twisted and contorted to suit his own needs. Maybe it is time to ask, "How does Jack Martin benefit from defeating this referendum?" The truth is Jack Martin does not live in the school district, he does not have children in District 79 schools, he has never had children in Fremont schools and he never will. He simply owns a lot of land. I believe the only personal interest he could have in this referendum is his desire to keep his taxes on this land as low as possible, with no regard to the impact on the schools.

Perhaps Mr. Martin would have us believe that he is merely a champion of the senior citizens of the district. That would be a hard sell after his proposal at the November board meeting when he advocated introducing a new tax for the residents of Saddlebrook Farms (a 55 and older community whose residents are exempt from school district taxes) to alleviate the financial burden in the district.

I believe defeating referendums has become nothing more than sport to Jack Martin. He seems to take great pride in his "victories" and has even lent his expertise in propaganda and smear campaigns to neighboring school district residents.

I thought Mr. Martin's proposal of introducing a new tax for the senior citizen community was about as low as he could go, until the District 79 February board meeting, Jack Martin chose this public gathering to serve a summons on, and threaten a young mother, a volunteer in her children's schools, with jail time. How frightened are you of losing the game this time Mr. Martin?

Which president was best writer?

Hey, we're all invited to a birthday party! But don't bake a cake just yet. The party is six years away, 2009, celebrating the bicentennial of Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

There will be a 15-member advisory committee including historians, authors and politicians, but we all are invited to submit ideas for celebrations.

Already on the committee are Ken Burns, the film maker and author; Sam Waterston, an actor who often has played Lincoln; Mario Cuomo, former governor of New York; James Thompson, former governor of Illinois; and Sen. Dick Durbin, former congressman from the same Illinois district that Lincoln once represented.

This looms as a panel of people who don't have enough to do. Planning a birthday party six years in advance, for goodness sake.

Well, if anyone deserves it, it's probably "Honest Abe." He's more than the face on our pennies and $5 dollar bills. Scholars have called him the greatest writer who ever lived in the White House.

Lincoln loved to read. He said, "The things I want to know are in books. My best friend is the man who will get me a book I ain't read."

And he loved to write, volumes and volumes of letters. Imagine the legacy of letters he might have left us had he not been assassinated at the age of 56.

More than 100 movies have been made about Lincoln. Famous and well-known actors who have portrayed him include F. Murray Abraham, John Carradine, Henry Fonda, Edward Herrmann, Charlton Heston, Hal Holbrook, Walter Huston, Kris Kristofferson, Raymond Massey, Gregory Peck, Jason Robards, Sam Waterston, Dennis Weaver and James Whitmore.

Lincoln was born Feb. 12, 1809, in a log cabin in Kentucky. Growing up he loved to read, constantly borrowing books from neighbors.

He is best remembered for preserving the Union during the Civil War and beginning the process that led to the end of slavery in the United States.

He also is remembered for his character, his speeches and his letters.

One of his most famous speeches, the Gettysburg Address, according to legend was written in two minutes on the back of an envelope.

As a writer he shared with Shakespeare the realization that "brevity is the soul of wit."

Lincoln was a melancholy man who cloaked his sadness in humor. His gift of writing produced memorable messages such as these, still capturing the heart of the matter some 200 years later:

"Common looking people are the best in the world; that is why the Lord makes so many of them."

"No matter how much cats fight, there always seem to be plenty of kittens."

"I am never bored anywhere.

Being bored is an insult to oneself."

"The best thing about the future is that it comes only one day at a time."

"It has been my experience that folks who have no vices have very few virtues."

"When you have an elephant by the hind legs and he is trying to run away, it is best to let him run."

Opponents said Lincoln was too homely to be president. When a rival accused him of being two-faced, he replied, "If I had two faces would I be wearing this one?"

These elected officials say they are representing the best interests of the 13.7 percent of Lake County residents who live in Waukegan. They say development of the casino is critical to Waukegan's viability. I think what is critical is maintaining a certain quality of life in Lake County. I think every Lake County resident wants to have an economically viable Waukegan, but not with the consequences of so many spillover effects. Though overburdened roads, overcrowded schools, the lack of affordable housing and a need for increased public safety and environmental protection already exist, feel comfortable standing behind these elected officials because even though there is a $5.0 million deficit I know they must have this pool of specially allocated money. I cannot believe that they would throw fuel on an already burning fire. I'm right aren't I? The remaining 86.3 percent of Lake County residents will have to decide for themselves.

CLC installs new board members

The College of Lake County board of trustees officially installed incumbents Richard Anderson and Patricia Jones who won election on April 1, as did former trustee, William Griffin, who defeated Grayslake resident Cheryl Doros and James Lumber, a founding member of CLC's board of trustees and the current vice chair of the board.

Anderson, Jones and Griffin will serve six-year terms, which will begin in November.

"The election results represent the end of an era," said CLC chair Rosa Reyes-Prosen. "Although we will welcome Mr. Griffin back to the board, Trustee James Lumber has been a guiding force on the board since its inception and we will miss him very much."

Anderson, of Grayslake, was first elected to the board in 1974, while attending the college as a full-time student, and he has served continuously on the board since then. After completing his studies at CLC, Anderson earned a bachelor of arts degree from Northeastern Illinois University and a juris doctor degree from Marquette University Law School. He is an attorney in practice in Grayslake.

Jones, of Waukegan, has served on the CLC board since 1989 and also holds office as the township supervisor for Waukegan. She received a bachelor of arts degree from Western Illinois University in 1973 and a master of education degree from Northern Illinois University in 1976. Active in the community, she was named the 1996 Woman of Achievement by the YWCA of Lake and McHenry counties.

Griffin, of Lake Forest, previously served on the CLC board of trustees from 1995 to 2001. A graduate of CLC, Griffin earned bachelor of science and master of business administration degrees from De Paul University.

College moves ahead with renovations

College of Lake County approved a contract for interior demolition work at the 1 N. Genesee St. building in Waukegan. The work is the next step in the renovation of the building to serve as a satellite location for the University Center of Lake County in Waukegan. The contract was awarded to Pickus Construction Co., Inc. of Waukegan for $106,000.

CLC purchased the three-story, 27,000-square-foot building in October 2002 and will lease to the University Center and two other tenants offering education and workforce development programs. The renovation is expected to be completed by fall 2003.

The board also approved the purchase of E911 emergency response software and hardware for the college's telephone system from Meridian IT Solutions of Schaumburg for $28,324.

Consumers elects 4 directors

Consumers Cooperative Credit Union (CCCU) members voted to fill four seats on the credit union's Board of Directors at its 73rd Annual Meeting.

John Huber, Ken Robinson, Michele Stancil and Robert Thirston, II were elected to serve three-year terms.

"We would like to extend our sincere appreciation to everyone who participated in the election process," said Bill Reidel, president of the member-owned credit union. "I especially want to thank all 14 members who were candidates for the four positions on the Board along with the overwhelming number of members who took the time to vote, either in person or by proxy."

At its first meeting following the election, CCCU's Board of Directors elected its officers for the coming year. James Mahnich will serve as chairman of the board with Kenneth Robinson as vice-chairman, Cynthia E. Lee as secretary and Michele Stancil as treasurer. In addition, Timothy Hattendorf, Roman Miller, Norma Quendenfeld, Stanley J. Pekol, Francisco Rosaly and John Schwab also continue to serve on CCCU's Board of Directors in the coming year.

Good habits can help kids feel less afraid of SARS

Dr. Singer,
My kids have been asking a lot of questions about S.A.R.S. and I don't know quite how to answer them. Of course, they are scared as all of us are, but I want to give them some feeling of a sense of control even if there isn't truly one yet. Do you have any suggestions for how to help our kids with this? A.O.

Hi A.O.,

Yes, we are all scared but I do think I can put this in perspective and also give you some tips on how to teach your kids some good habits that will help them to avoid many illnesses.

You are right that we don't truly have control over this thing yet, but at least at this point, it seems that this virus hasn't really acted any differently than any other virus. I have heard that Influenza has killed more people than this one has. In other words, the percentage of people becoming fatally infected is not at a level yet where health experts are panicking. Of course, I don't mean to minimize this for anyone who has become ill or lost loved ones to it. I also understand that the vast majority of people who contract the virus, not only survive but really don't experience anything worse than a flu. I have heard that the people who have died have had some other pre-existing threat to their immune system that weakened them. So, certainly if you have an immune problem or some other pre-existing health issue, obviously be extra careful, but for the average healthy person, caution should be exercised but panic is probably not appropriate.

Practicing good health habits and hygiene is not only important to each of us individually, but also to making sure that any illnesses don't spread. Simple things can help anyone feel more in control of their health. Here are some things to teach your kids:

Wash your hands. Don't wash the skin off, but wash frequently. Use liquid soap. I don't think that anti-bacterial is imperative for something like this because it is a virus, but these days, it is tough to find any soap that isn't anti-bacterial.

Keep your fingers out of your eyes, nose and mouth when you are out in public. This is just a general rule our family has used for ages and I have to say, (knock wood a lot) we have had very few illnesses for many, many years. If you just take a short look around at people out in the world, you will see that people touch their faces a lot during the day and don't really think about what that means. They wipe their noses with their hands, they bite their nails, they rub their eyes.

When blowing your nose, do not use a

The Feldenkrais Method-more than reach out and touch someone

Physical pain is a part of everyone's life at some time or other. Whether it's directly caused by an accidental injury or a manifestation of a physical illness, we generally deal with it by taking painkillers, applying ice packs to decrease inflammation and immobilizing the painful area.

The day I fell from my horse, my instructions were "Take the Vicodin as needed for pain every six hours and get lots of rest." This, along with the traditional huge bill for services rendered, was all I was given upon being discharged from the hospital.

If there was a correct way to fall, I did the extreme opposite. Instead of rolling to lessen the impact, I landed smack on my right side, on earth that was more like cement. I felt my ribs crunch together and a shooting pain went up the right side of my back.

I was transported to the hospital by some great Waukegan paramedics. X-rays and blood tests revealed no broken bones, or internal bleeding, but gosh, did I ever hurt! At home, after I managed to crawl into bed and lie down, it was nearly impossible to get back up. I could only lie there, longing for six hours to pass so I could take another Vicodin.

ASTHMA CONDITION REVERSED THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC CARE

Case Study: A 12-year-old male patient was initially diagnosed with asthma at age two; by age four his asthma had become a severe condition.

His medical treatment included oral medication twice per day and three different inhalers, four times per day (24 inhalations.) He had daily attacks, constant wheezing, and persistent tightness and heaviness in his chest. These symptoms kept him from engaging in any physical activities and resulted in emergency room treatments five times per year.

According to the patient's medical specialist, if his condition persisted, he would be diagnosed with chronic obstructed lung disease by age 30, and confined to a wheelchair with oxygen by age 45 — the patient's mother decided to try Chiropractic care.

After his first two weeks of care, a notable reduction in his symptoms was reported. The wheezing and tightness and heaviness in his chest began to subside, his activity level increased and he was using his inhalers less frequently.

Two weeks later, an 85% overall improvement was reported — one daily attack, four uses of his inhalers (from 24 daily uses), and he began engaging in running sports.

At the end of the sixth week, there was a 50% inhaler-use reduction, a 50% medication reduction and he was cleared by his physician to participate in school sports.

By week eight, he was no longer having daily attacks or persistent symptoms and he began training for his school's "1-mile turkey trot" — in which he placed "first", just four weeks later.

Within six months of the patient receiving Chiropractic care, he was diagnosed as "non-asthmatic".

In one year, this patient's condition improved from severe asthmatic to non-asthmatic through Chiropractic care.

my bruised and hurting ribs, that were pushed together like a can of sardines, I felt them separating and the pain leaving. I returned for two more treatments with some exercises to do for homework. At home, I had to sit on a chair and fold my arms up over my head, turning in both directions—clockwise and counterclockwise. I was better in a few weeks—a fraction of the time it probably would have taken if I had confined myself to bed rest. Magic, maybe that's what it is, but at least I can offer an explanation of what Rodney was able to do.

The Feldenkrais Method was developed by Russian born, Dr. Moshe Feldenkrais, who at the age of 13 emigrated to Israel. Suffering from a chronic knee injury, he employed his knowledge of engineering, physics, neurology and body mechanics to develop an integrated treatment method of both body and mind at improving both physical and mental functioning.

Traditional medicine that treats physical injury in terms of structure, and treats movement only in relation to structure misses out on the very essential component of mind awareness. Traditional treatment's missing link is two-fold. First there's the mental awareness factor. One needs to realize what he's actually doing when he moves. Secondly, there has to be an integration of the practitioner's nervous system with his patient's as he gives both physical direction with his hands and verbally instructs him on what he is to do.

In his book "The Elusive Obvious," Moshe Feldenkrais writes, "I am known for the beneficial effects of what I call 'Functional Integration' and Awareness through Movement." I spoke with Rodney just last week. He told me it's more than just touch; it's about technique. It's actually about the person who's doing the treating.

It's definitely something to think about beyond "reach out and touch someone." Kinda way out? Yeah, but it worked for me, and is said to be effective in treating numerous ailments including orthopedic and neurological injuries, Parkinson's Disease, multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy, and even learning disabilities in children.

handkerchief that you use over and over again. Each time you touch that after it's been used, you are potentially spreading your mucus to anything else you touch. Same with cloth towels. Germs can live for a while on cloth.

Try as often as possible to provide fresh air. Open the windows. Be outside when you can so that you are not always in stagnant areas.

Wash toys frequently, especially when played with by multiple kids. Use soap and warm water.

Now, I'm going to sound like Seinfeld...I'm not going to say much but what is up with always having to shake someone's hand or kiss hello? Think about it.

Do I even need to say this?...Always wash with soap after using the toilet!

These suggestions are not designed to cure something like S.A.R.S. although I wish they could. They are just common sense things that our family has practiced for a long time and I believe, have had really good results. We cannot control everything regarding this illness now, but little things we do can help us to stay healthier and to prevent the spread of any illness to others. Hope this helps. If your kids are panicked, bring them on by and we can talk more about it.

AREA GOLF SCENE NEWS, NOTES & RESULTS

Thunderhawk receives honors

The Lake County Forest Preserves' Thunderhawk Golf Club near Beach Park has been recognized as one of the seven courses in Illinois voted as America's Best Public Access Courses in Golfweek Magazine's 7th Annual America's Best course list. Last year, Golfweek also named Thunderhawk 'Best in State of Illinois'.

Courses are selected based on strategic considerations of shot making and design, balance, and aesthetics of conditioning and setting.

Thunderhawk was designed by Robert Trent Jones, Jr., and is an 18-hole championship public course.

The America's Best list distinguishes itself from other course rankings by dividing courses into two categories: classical (before 1960) and modern (after 1960). The ranking also includes a comprehensive, state-by-state list of the Best Public Access Courses, resort and daily fee, of which Thunderhawk Golf Club was named.

The Golfweek distinction is one of several honors Thunderhawk Golf Club has received from the golf industry since opening in 1999. The acclaimed course was also named the "Best Places to Play" (2002) and "Best in State" (2001) by Golf Digest, "Best New Course That You Can Actually Play" and "1999 Top Ten You Can Play" by Golf Magazine, and "5 Stars" by Chicagoland Golf (2001, 2002).

Thunderhawk also received designation by Audubon International as the first public course to be certified an Audubon Signature Sanctuary in Illinois. It is the third public golf course in the world and the 23rd course of any kind worldwide to earn this certification for excellence in environmental stewardship.

For more information on Thunderhawk Golf Club or any of the Lake County Forest Preserve golf clubs, please contact Mary Longshore at 847-968-3229, or visit the Forest Preserve web site at www.LCFPD.org. For more information on the America's Best, visit Golfweek's website at www.golfweek.com.

RE/MAX Long Drive

The RE/MAX World Long Drive Championship has announced plans to hold at least four qualifying events throughout Illinois this year. The first will be April 19 at Double Eagle Golf Practice Center in Justice, IL. The competition will run from noon-4 p.m. Please call site director Maury Jones at 708-458-9200.

The competition format has also been expanded. The Senior Division, which had been for competitors 45- and older, will now feature a 45-54 age group. A new Super Senior Division is being added for players age 55- and older.

In addition, the Junior Division is being subdivided by age, with Group A for those 14- and under and Group B for those ages 15-17.

Top qualifiers from a season-long qualifying process earn berths to the RE/MAX World Championships in Mesquite, Nev. the week of Oct. 14-18. On the line—a chance for a piece of the $350,000 purse.

For further questions or information on qualifying sites, please call 888-233-4654.

Outings

Carmel High School's annual golf outing will be held Fri., June 13 at Countryside G.C. in Mundelein. The shotgun start format will begin at approximately noon. Proceeds from the event will go towards the Carmel High Athletic Department. For information on hole sponsors or registration, please call Kevin Calcaterra at 847-327-6390.

Tournaments

Highland Park Golf Course will be one of the host courses for the second annual Youth Classic.

This event is for players aged 3-22 and encompasses players throughout the United States. More than 500 competitors from 15 states played in the event last year.

Entries will be accepted through June 18. The fees range from $50-110, depending on the division each player is eligible.

The event features a practice, longest drive, closest to the pin and longest putt contest, followed by two days of competition.

The field is comprised of 16 divisions. Golfers are placed into flights of roughly 16 players after the first round. Trophies are awarded to flight winners.

For further information, please check out the web site at www.countryyouthclassic.com.

Crime Stoppers, sheriff team up to crack down on ecstasy

Lake County Crime Stoppers, the Lake County Sheriff's Office and the Lake County Metropolitan Enforcement Group, (M.E.G.), would like to announce again in 2003, an initiative to help curb and prevent the illegal possession and sale of the illegal drug ECSTASY in Lake County. Cash rewards of up to $1,000 will be given to anonymous callers who provide information that leads to the arrest of those who possess or sell ecstasy.

According to Lake County MEG Director Terry Lemming, "Ecstasy is made by criminals, not pharmaceutical companies. Users of the drug never know what they are getting in the pill that they think is ecstasy. The criminals who make the drug have no concern for the health of the user and often substitute cheaper more powerful and dangerous drugs. When ecstasy is in the pill, users never know the actual dosage, which leads to numerous overdoses each year. Ecstasy is a terrible drug with devastating side affects."

If you have any information about a felony crime, or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at 847-662-2222. Callers are reminded that they do not have to identify themselves and that they are assigned a secret number when they offer information.

If your information leads to an arrest, you could be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

For more information about ecstasy or other illegal drugs, see the Lake County MEG web site at www.lakecountymeg.org.

Mother Nature wins at Lake Geneva

It started off as heavy wet freezing rain that turned to hail and finished off as snow before ending around 8 am Saturday morning.

The forecast for Saturday night in the low 20's didn't help the sun shine during the day as Kevin Dawson announced that the 2003 season opener at Lake Geneva Raceway would be postponed until April 12.

This announcement came at 8:42 am. during the Sports Jam Radio Show on WLKG 96.1 FM, as Dawson who has a segment each week on that program, said it was a very easy decision with the high forecasted for only 30 degrees.

The bad part about it was the canceling of the Midwest sportsman series premiere that will now be part of the Rockford Speedway two-day show this coming weekend.

This round will be rescheduled at LGR April 19, along with the first leg of the No Bull series for the super late models.

The season opener April 12 will include the Budweiser super late models, the McHenry Limousine super stocks, Midwest sport trucks and the Anchor Towing basic international cars. Time trials begin at 5:45 p.m. with the first starting at 7. Weekly racing will continue through October 4.

Lake Geneva Raceway is a paved banked one-third mile oval located in Lake Geneva, Wisc. a tourist town along the border of Illinois. Less than one hour from Milwaukee, Madison, Rockford and Chicago, just off Hwy. 50 on Bloomfield Rd. southeast of downtown Lake Geneva. For further information, fans can call (262) 248-8566. For marketing information call Dale Erdmann at 262-878-3940 or e mail him at erdmann@ticon.net.

The raceway also has a 24-hour web site is www.lakegenearaceway.com.

 We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals
 If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
 *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.

Broad and Narrow Approaches to Job Searches

By Scott T. Fleischmann

When I was about twelve years old, my father who loved outdoor sports attempted to teach me to hunt and fish. Although I never developed my dad's love for these activities, I learned several skills that would serve me well in later life. One of these skills is essential to the job search process. He took an entire afternoon to share the differences between rifles and shotguns, and when to use each. In that same session, he taught me basic gun safety and how to clean these weapons. Although this may not seem to be a complex subject to hunters, I was not familiar with the sport and needed the lesson. A shotgun is projects a large pattern of small "shot" but a rifle sends one bullet directly to a very small specific target. Just as a hunter knows when to use a shotgun and when to use a rifle each job hunter needs to know which method to use.

The Rifle Approach

Those who know exactly where their career is headed you can use the rifle approach. In this approach, a candidate researches companies that seem to meet specific career objectives. They then send a resume to those that are the best match. This is the preferred method for those who have a defined career plan because they can work toward that goal. However, those who use this method you must have a complete understanding of their goals including: skill strengths, area's for personal growth, geographic preferences, the effects of spiritual beliefs on their career, etc. For those who would like to do a study of all of these factors, I suggest the book What Color is Your Parachute? 2000 (Bolles, Thomas Nelson: Berkeley, CA: Ten Speed Press, 1999). This book will help to analyze each factor that could influence a job search. It is updated every two to three years and is available at most libraries and bookstores.

The Shotgun Approach

Those who do not have specific career goals and a detailed plan on how to meet those objectives need to take a broader approach. They need to look at all of the opportunities that are available. They will send a resume to the every company that may have a job opening. They will then be considered for varying job opportunities, many of which they may never have considered. The goal is to get in the door to interview at many companies in order to see if they have a job that is a good skill and experience match. One of the difficulties of this method is that the candidate has not yet identified what the right job looks like. Subsequently, identifying a good job when it is available may not be easy. In the next column, we will explore how to know that right job when using the shotgun approach.

mulching. Red and black housing. In good condition except for a slipping clutch.
Rock solid machine about five years old; 3 speeds, fastest is faster than new mowers. Retired $769, used maybe 10-12 times in summer. Easy starting. Big cutting area; has clippings bag but mulching action really makes all the grass that's cut "disappear" into the lawn. In the fall, it will turn the leaves on your lawn into dust while it mows. Recent blade sharpening (barely any nicks) and recent spark plug replacement. Mower handle has two big hand-twist knobs so mower can be "folded" and put into a car trunk.
Has a nice blade activation (clutch) handle, curved on both sides and does not have an aggravating "kill" switch, so the mower can stand by itself running. Comparable Toro models at Ace Hardware going this week for $300 to $449. Clutch bearings are fine; it's the clutch belt, which costs $15 from Toro at Round
Lake Ace. $100 is a fair price in today's market, with the simple repair factored in. Call sage at (847) 623-9064; or

Organize your way out of garage, basement clutter

Many homeowners routinely treat their basements like a landfill, says Jim O'Connor of Clutter Control in Lake Forest, dumping items wherever they find space. They vow to get things in order in the spring, but rarely follow through.

"When spring comes, they focus their energies on the upper floors. Next, they tend to the lawn and garden. During the precious weekends remaining, they would rather relax on a lawn chair than shovel out the basement."

O'Connor acknowledges that basements are even less inviting in the cold, dark winter months, especially if the floors are covered with dirty boxes and miscellaneous junk that you imagine are hiding places for small creatures. However, if the laundry machines are in the basement, and kids play down there, it's worth the effort to clean up.

Richard Schulman says basements are more usable and more attractive if things are kept off the floor. Schulman operates White Rabbit, a Deerfield company that installs specially designed cabinets, shelves and workbenches in basements as well as in garages.

"Most basements have small or no windows, so use that valuable wall space for storage," Schulman says. "You can hide messy things behind cabinet doors, and keep important things visible on shelves. White laminated cabinets will brighten up the room, and you might consider additional lighting."

Keeping things off the floor will make the floor easier to clean, he adds. Cabinets that are attached to the walls, or on legs at least four inches from the floor, will also reduce the chances of water damage if a basement has a seepage problem during heavy rains.

O'Connor, who is a member of the National Association of Professional Organizers (NAPO).

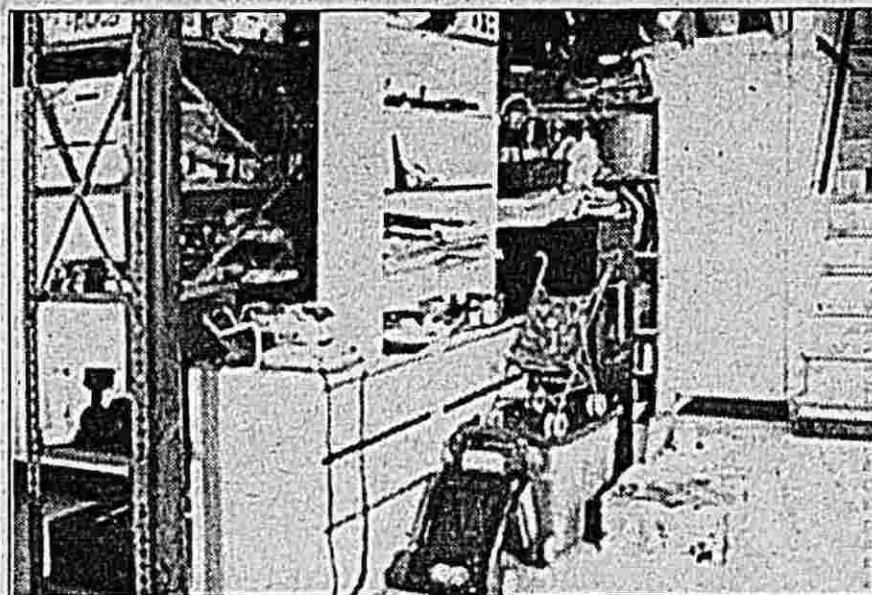

Steps to take to make your home clutter-free:

• Toss things. Walk through the basement and haul to the trash anything that is broken, not needed, or unlikely to be used again. Set aside useful but unwanted items to give to friends, relatives, or charity.

• Categorize. Consolidate similar items, making separate piles for sports equipment, toys, books, tools, etc. If related items are stored upstairs or in the garage and are rarely used, add them to the appropriate piles in the basement.

• Estimate your needs. Look at your piles, and decide what should go in cabinets and what can go on shelves. Companies such as White Rabbit will design a plan for you at no cost, helping you determine how many shelves or cabinets you need to supplement what you already have.

• Stay organized! Make sure all family members know where each category of items belongs.

Before and after.

For more information, call Clutter Control at 847-615-5463, or White Rabbit at 847-940-8484, or visit www.napo-chicago.org or www.whiterabbitinc.com.

DOORS & MORE

sales trademark —
custom millwork at reasonable price

Keith Surroz was in the construction business when he saw an advertisement that claimed to have doors and trim for sale, and thought it sounded like a terrific offer.

He could use the doors in the homes he builds. He expected to find around 20 to 25 doors and he planned to purchase all of them.

When he arrived at the address however, he found a whopping 500 doors for sale. The man who placed the ad must have been a very good salesperson, because even though Keith had the thought, "Where will I put them?" running through his head, he bought the doors. All 500 of them.

But with his entrepreneurial spirit, the would-be daunting storage problem turned into a new business idea.

The new business idea was to open a store called Doors & More. Keith is a "local boy," so he knows the area well and is familiar with the customer base. In recent years he has seen several lumber stores go out of business and he can sympathize with the owners.

"It's hard to compete," said Keith. He has found his niche, however, offering customized millwork and quick installation. Keith has a solid crew working for him and they pride themselves on quality craftsmanship. Though the larger chain stores are great in their own right, often they cannot meet the specifications customers need. Customized work comes in handy at those times.

"Many customers need a door that is just an inch or two from the standard size," said Keith. Homeowners also use doors to give originality to the house and custom work is needed then as well. Keith gave the following examples of the type of requests they receive for custom work. A customer wanted his door painted a very specific shade of red. Unable to find the door already in the color he was after, he had Doors & More paint it the exact color he envisioned.

Another customer brought in a picture of a flower she wanted etched on the glass portion of the door. Keith sent the picture to the glass manufacturer and they were able to do the art work the customer wanted. Mark Gnarrow is putting a transom Keith was also able to help a client who above a door. wanted the door to a room childproofed. He designed a door that would meet the current needs and that would still be in style when childproofing was no longer necessary.

Keith tries to save the customer money in several ways. All the millwork is done at the shop, which is less expensive for the customer than if it were sent out. He continues to buy doors in bulk and he keeps his overhead low. Keith also keeps pre-finished doors for less because they cannot be customized.

With a little creativity, Keith turned his storage dilemma into a successful business. He has found a way to stay competitive with larger operations by providing a service that many homeowners and contractors need.

Campus theme sparks condominium interest

Financial considerations aside, the combination of luxury and comfort in high quality developments continues to energize condominium popularity.

"There is no question that the continuation of a life style that combines these features without many of the responsibilities that are part of a single-family home ownership is at the throttle of condo growth," states Helen Weiss, of long-time condo developer Weiss Development Corp. The form is currently in the late stages of Village Green Condominiums, its third condo complex in north suburban Lincolnshire.

"And it certainly doesn't hurt that the first wave of the enormous Baby Boomer generation is now in its mid-fifties and many are also empty nesters, eager to eliminate maintenance responsibilities," she adds.

"Our forte at Village Green is to satisfy the demand for luxury with quality and value, ranging from efficient space planning and the choice of materials that go into construction with a campus-like layout that supports a sense of community," says Weiss.

One component of space planning that has helped drive sales at Village Green is the fact that, instead of a high-rise tower, the complex has three low-rise buildings that will contain a total of only 180 residences.

"This allows for relative privacy, while at the same time setting the stage for neighborliness. We believe this is a formula that works well with our shoppers, most of whom are relocating from large homes in nearby northern suburbs seeking a more casual lifestyle. No more rakes or shovels for them," Weiss notes.

Bicycle and pedestrian links to nearby trail systems add an informal recreational amenity through which owners can further enjoy the surrounding natural beauty. Other on-site recreational amenities will include an outdoor swimming pool and a community center with an exercise room and hospitality/meeting room. Assessments include water and gas for individual units in addition to the upkeep of the many amenities of the development.

Luxurious interior appointments include formal entries with coffered ceilings and ceramic tile or wood floors, a choice of berber or plush carpeting in living areas, extra height ceilings in living areas, 14-foot ceilings in penthouse units, fireplaces (per plan), oversized windows with light transoms (per plan), and much more.

Kitchens include maple or oak European styles cabinetry, pantries, Corian counters tops, ceramic tile floors, and Jenn-Air appliances, including self-cleaning gas ranges with sealed burners, built-in microwave ovens, side-by-side refrigerators with ice makers, dishwashers and disposers. Double-bowl Kohler porcelain sinks and faucets are also standard. Several breakfast rooms lead to terraces.

FUTURE PLANS

Perfect plan for a lot with a view

A panoramic porch provides access to a long foyer, preserving privacy in the family areas. A bountiful dining room, 13 feet long, borders the foyer.

Upon entering the living areas you are greeted with a vast expanse of interior visual space. The gracious great room is the primary relaxing and entertaining area of the home. A tray ceiling and central fireplace provide the look of custom details.

The large kitchen breakfast area is open alongside, with the angled kitchen counter adding excitement to the rooms. A major highlight is the large laundry room, next to the over-sized double garage.

The isolated master suite allows the most practical use of interior space. The suite includes a tray ceiling in the bed room and an amenity-filled garden bath. The walk-in closet is sized to hold all your seasonal clothes. Both master bedroom and central living areas access to the rear terrace, providing expansive view potential.

Two generous family bedrooms are in a wing of their own, sharing a convenient full bath.

The distinctive country classic exterior is embellished with arch top dormer windows. Horizontal siding and a full front porch give the home a solid look of permanence. All W.D. Farmer plans include construction details for substituting brick frame or stucco exterior finish.

Plan number Z-715 is one level luxury living in only 1,787 square feet of heated space. The plan is available with either a crawl space or slab foundation.

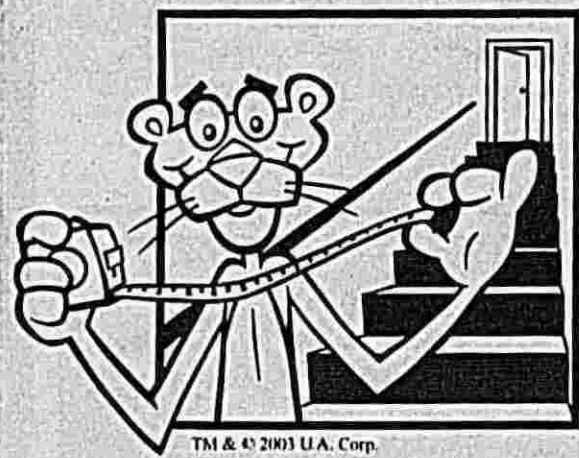

To receive an information packet on plans, call W.D. Farmer Residence Designer, Inc. at 1-800-225-7526 or 1-800-221-7526 in Georgia. You can write to request the information at P.O. Box 450025, Atlanta, GA 31145. Visit the web site at www.wdfplans.com.

Exquisite Mediterranean home selected as 2003 Lake Forest Infant Welfare Showcase House and Gardens

Shadow Pond, a spectacular 1920s era estate, has been chosen as the site of the 10th biennial Lake Forest Showcase House & Gardens. Twenty-five top interior designers and eight prominent landscape professionals will transform this Mediterranean architectural gem and its grounds into one of the premier showcase house events in the United States.

Set on seven majestic acres, 30 miles north of Chicago, this lovely manor home is rich with unrivaled craftsmanship. Originally built for Arthur Stanley Jackson, a wealthy lumber baron and grain dealer, Shadow Pond features imported marble fireplaces, exquisite Venetian glass chandeliers, hand painted murals, and impeccably maintained millwork and hardware throughout its 23 rooms, seven bedrooms, and 6.5 bathrooms.

Formal gardens, some of which were originally designed by Jens Jensen in 1928, provide a lush backdrop for the spectacular views and breathtaking vistas visible from numerous outdoor terraces and from nearly every room in the house.

The Lake Forest Showcase House & Gardens will be open to the public from Sat., April 26 through Sun., May 18. Hours are 9:30 a.m. - 3 p.m. on weekdays and 11 a.m. - 4 p.m. on weekends. Tickets are $20 in advance and $25 at the door. Group rates are available. A boutique will be open during house hours. Special events include a cooking demonstration and wine tasting with Corner Cooks, presentations by book dramatist Barbara Rinella and HGTV host Chris Madden, and private tours of the house and gardens. For more information on parking, tickets, and other information, call 847-604-3479 or visit the website at www.lakeforestshowhouse.com.

Consistently ranked as one of the top 10 showcases in the country, the Lake Forest Chapter of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago welcomes Kitchen Aid and Lake Forest Bank & Trust Company as corporate sponsors of this year's event.

Proceeds benefit the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago, which provides medical and dental services to the children of Chicago's working poor. In particular, the Pediatric Orthodontic and Asthma Programs will be funded this year.

Putting your home on the market?

Here are some helpful storage and packing tips. It's moving time! This is the best time to list your home for sale and the first thing that your realtor will suggest is that you pack up all of the clutter and put it in storage so your home looks bigger. The ladies at Grass Lake Storage & Packaging in Lindenhurst are very friendly and available with information and suggestions that will make your storage experience a positive one. In addition to having multiple sizes of storage units, they also carry a full line of boxes, packaging supplies and rent UHaul trucks—one stop convenience shop!

Grass Lake Storage & Packaging recommends that you put your items in a box. Whenever possible, it is best to use a uniform size box for ease in stacking and maximizing space. Use pallets (provided free of charge) on the cement floor to aid in the ventilation and air flow in the unit. Establish a walkway to the back of the unit. It is also helpful to place frequently used items and especially any financial records you have near the door. It is amazing how often you will need that one document for closing and searching for that at the very back under everything in the middle of summer is not pleasant. When storing appliances, make sure that they are clean and dry. Always wedge the doors open. When packing books, it is recommended lining the box(es) with plastic (garbage bag are excellent) and pack books flat to protect their spines. Boxes of books should be placed directly on pallets and not stacked due to weight. Dishes should be packed in specially designed dish packs with the glassware partition kit. The ladies at Grass Lake Storage & Packaging had this excellent tip for packing dinner and desert plates. They recommend buying cheap styrofoam dinner and dessert size plates to insert between your china plates (the size is perfect). They also advise that you not cover furniture with plastic: it creates moisture and the wood finish will bubble. Use furniture blankets or old bedding instead.

Suggestions for knowing what size unit you will need:

5x10. This unit is approximately the size of a narrow walk-in closet. You can store a couple pieces of furniture such as a chest of drawers, a few chairs and boxes. Perfect for that snow blower and other out of season tools.

10x10. This unit is approximately the size of a large walk-in closet with much easier access. It will hold furniture (not including appliances) from a one-bedroom apartment, boxes and miscellaneous items.

10x20. This unit is approximately the size of a one-car garage. It will hold furniture from a 2 to 3 bedroom house (including appliances), boxes and miscellaneous items from the garage or basement. It can also be used to store a car or truck (depending on height).

10x30. This unit will hold the contents of a 3- to 4-bedroom house (including appliances), boxes and miscellaneous items from the garage and basement.

In addition to the above listed sizes, Grass Lake Storage & Packaging has 10x15 and 10x25 units.

Boxing it up... the following is a list of commonly used boxes

- Small box 16x12x12 is excellent for heavier items
- Medium box 18x18x16 not too big around that you cannot get your arms around it and not too deep
- Large box 18x18x24 is good for packing pots, pans and kids toys
- Extra large box 30x20x20 is excellent for lightweight, bulky items like comforters and pillows
- Dish Pack w/ inserts is made of double strength corrugated and has handles on the side for carrying ease
- Wardrobe box is tall and has a metal bar for hanging clothes
- Additional items that you will need are bubble wrap, unprinted newsprint paper, packing foam peanuts, tape and markers.

Time-saving tips for creating a picture perfect

According to a recent Gallup survey, more than 26 million households hired a "green" professional to maintain their lawns, and that number is expected to grow due to increasingly tight time schedules. On the other hand, there are still many homeowners who prefer to care for their own landscapes. For those of you who still take pride in getting your hands dirty to maintain a beautiful lawn—but are pressed for time to do it—you may benefit from the following time-saving tips:

• Loosen up! At the beginning of the growing season, aerate your lawn. An aeration treatment removes small cores of soil and thatch to allow air, moisture and fertilizer to penetrate down to the root zone. The cores brought to the surface contain microorganisms, which help the breakdown of woody thatch tissue. This allows the roots of existing grass plants to spread out and grow deeper, creating a healthier, thicker lawn. Ultimately this will significantly reduce the subsequent amount of time spent watering and fertilizing.

• Stop weeds in their tracks. Eliminate the time-intensive, back-breaking labor of weeding by applying a pre-emergent herbicide that prevents weeds from germinating in your lawn. Products like Preen 'n Green for Lawns prevent the growth of weeds without having a negative effect on your lawn. This product also contains a powerful post-emergent herbicide to kill weeds after they have already begun to grow. It is effective against a broad variety of weeds, including hard-to-control weeds, (such as dandelion, clover, henbit, ground ivy and wild onion) because it allows weeds to absorb the herbicide through the roots as well as the leaf.

• Always use a mulching mower.

When you cut your grass with a mulching mower, you not only save the time of emptying bags or raking cut grass, but the clippings also provide added nutrients to your soil. The old belief was that clippings contribute to harmful thatch buildup. However, the deck and blade design of today's mulching mowers cut each blade of grass several times, producing a finely chopped clipping.

• Change your watering habits.

Reduce time spent watering by following a deep watering routine. Employ infrequent deep watering rather than frequent surface watering. It's best to do this in the morning or early afternoon to allow the lawn to dry before evening. Overall, the key is to try to mirror nature's normal pattern of rainy periods followed by brief dry spells.

Also, since taller grass maintains moisture better, don't cut your grass as short. Finally, apply mulch around shrubs, trees and ornamentals to help keep in moisture.

• Raise your mower. Another reason not to cut your grass as short is that taller grass grows slower. Slow growth translates into a lower frequency of mowing. Select a length that's short enough to be aesthetically pleasing, yet long enough to extend the time between mowing (generally 1-1/2 inches to 3 inches). Plus, longer grass has a greater surface area on which to carry out photosynthesis, which results in healthier plants.

TIRED OF UGLY CONCRETE?

DURA-COAT can beautify the ordinary

As winter comes to an end, many homeowners will begin their ritual spring cleaning, sprucing up the inside and outside of their homes.

While the entire home may be made spotless, concrete areas such as basement floors, garage floors, driveways and sidewalks, are often neglected. Concrete that is cracked and worn detracts from the overall look of even the most well maintained landscapes and lessens property values.

"Even when it's new, concrete is ugly to look at. It is a dull grey, there is nothing attractive about it," says Gerald Server, owner of Dura-Coat, LLC. Dura-Coat specializes in concrete repair and restoration and works on projects for both residential and commercial clients. The work performed can range from repairing a single driveway to working on new construction sites.

It is the beginning of the busy spring season for Gerald and his crews. Gerald already has jobs scheduled, including a nearby township and garage/basement floors for new construction in Lake Forest. The township project will involve repairing and upgrading steps, ramps, and sidewalks in an aggregate finish.

If having concrete areas repaired or resurfaced sounds like a boring part of home maintenance, it does not need to be. It can become a decorating project just like wallpapering or painting. "It's an opportunity for the homeowner to dress up a necessary area," says Gerald.

Resurfacing is a generic term that can include choosing any color, pattern and/or texture, so there is plenty of room for creativity. Dura-Coat uses a product called Perma Crete. It is available in over 230 colors and can be applied over anything that is concrete as well as other surfaces including wood, masonry, and steel. Perma Crete can enhance an area and it is practical. It has a no-slip surface and is stain resistant, making it an excellent choice for garage floors and pool decks. And for anyone thinking of redoing the driveway this year, Dura-Coat can provide many decorative options instead of the typical grey concrete or asphalt.

The advantages of using Perma Crete and what sets it apart from other products used in the field is its durability. It is twice the strength of concrete and is guaranteed to hold up to the winters here in the Midwest. And the winters are the key concern here with the salt, freezing and thawing, and ice damage. While it is possible to paint over concrete the effect will not stand up to time and will need to be redone in as little as a year.

Dura-Coat, LLC allows the home or business owner a chance to repair and remodel at the same time. Gerald and one of his crews (he has two full crews) begin a job by power washing the area and reinforcing the existing concrete. Then the chosen pattern and texture can be applied. Sealing the concrete is done at levels of the process to keep cracks from returning.

Gerald began Dura-Coat after seeing an ad in Forbes magazine about Perma Crete, which has been on the market for 15 years. The company that produces the product was looking to expand distribution. Gerald saw an excellent business opportunity. He and his crew traveled to the factory to learn more, and found Perma Crete to be a worthwhile product. Perma Crete has been used in the plazas of several large corporations, among them the Coca-Cola Company in Georgia.

Resurfacing is economical to do, the price usually falls within $5 per square foot range, and it adds value to the property. Whether one is simply wanting to make old concrete look new again, or wanting to create a much more elaborate look, Dura-Coat has the experience and expertise to get the job done.

For further information or a free quote, contact Gerald server at 847-710-3600 or visit the website at www.dura-coat.com.

Dear Lake County Voter:

We are pleased to provide this Voter Information Guide for the April 1, 2003 Consolidated Election. This guide lists all candidates for municipal offices, park districts, library districts, school districts, fire protection districts, and other districts in which officials will be elected to office. In addition, this guide also contains all referenda being proposed to voters.

Should you have a question on Election Day about the candidates and public questions on your ballot, compare your ballot to the Units of Government section on the preprinted ballot application that you sign. If the information on your ballot is different, ask the election judge to verify the ballot style number. Always clarify any issues before marking a ballot. Once your ballot is cast in the ballot box, you may not receive another ballot.

Our web site at www.co.lake.il.us/cntyclk offers pictures of your polling place, directions and a map from your home. From our opening page, select "A Photo, Directions and Maps for My Polling Place" to preview a photograph of your polling place. Select "What's on My Ballot for the April 1, 2003 Consolidated Election?" to see a specimen of your official ballot. You may verify your polling place address using the County Clerk's web site or this guide. This guide lists all polling places by township and precinct number order.

All of us in the County Clerk's office are dedicated to providing you the best possible service. Please do not hesitate to contact us at 847-377-2400, or use our TTY/TDD service at 847-377-2022, if you have questions or need clarification about the voting process on or before Election Day.

Very Truly Yours,

Willard R. Helander
Lake County Clerk

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ABOVE IS A TRUE AND CORRECT LISTING OF THE POLLING PLACE LOCATIONS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED ELECTION TO BE HELD IN LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS, ON TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 2003.

Willard R. Helander

WILLARD R. HELANDER, County Clerk
Lake County, Illinois

★★★ Optical Scan Voting Instructions

Fill in the oval next to the candidate's name.

DO NOT MARK YOUR BALLOT IN THE
FOLLOWING MANNER:

★★★ "Write-In" Vote

NEVER use the write-in line to cast a vote for a candidate who is listed on the ballot.

Only use the write-in line for candidates who are not listed on the ballot, but who have filed a "Declaration of Intent To Be a Write-In Candidate." Using the write-in line in any other way, may invalidate your vote.

To cast a write-in vote, clearly write or print the name on the line provided under the appropriate office and darken the corresponding oval.

★★★ Important Voter Information ★★★

Does my ballot list the correct candidates and public questions?

If you have questions about candidate names or public questions appearing on your ballot, ask the Election Judges to show you the Units of Government section on the preprinted application you signed. Compare the ballot to the list. You must resolve questions before you cast your ballot. Once a ballot is in the ballot box, you may not receive another ballot.

Will a write-in vote count?

Only a write-in vote for a person who has filed a "Declaration of Intent To Be a Write-In Candidate" form with the Lake County Clerk is valid and counted. To cast a write-in vote for a declared candidate, clearly write or print the name on the line provided under the appropriate office and darken the corresponding oval.

What if I have never voted on an Optical Scan Ballot?

- If you have any questions about voting on an Optical Scan Ballot, ask the Election Judges for a demonstration. Never cast your ballot before questions are resolved, for you cannot receive another ballot after a ballot is cast in the ballot box.
- ALSO, BE SURE TO READ BOTH SIDES OF YOUR BALLOT.
- If you make a mistake marking your ballot, you may request another.

What if I need assistance at the polls?

Only registered voters who have a disability or who cannot read English sufficiently to mark the ballot may receive assistance. A person of the voter's choice or two election judges may provide assistance after giving oath and completing an Affidavit of Assisted Voter. An agent of the voter's employer or union may not provide assistance.

Provisions for curb side voting can also be made in advance by contacting the Lake County Clerk's office at 847-377-2408.
